

The woman who reads ads, knows that there's a best time and place to buy a thing—the ads enable her to decide.

The Daily Republican.

The housewife who studies the ads can save enough on each week's purchases to pay the wages of a servant.

Vol. 7. No. 132.

Rushville, Indiana, Saturday Evening, August 13, 1910.

Single Copies, 2 Cents.

State Librarian

BRYAN ACCEPTS INVITE TO SPEAK

Bert Hendren, Chairman of Democratic State Speakers' Bureau Tenders Invitation Here.

COMMONER CONSENTS TO COME

U. S. Jackson, the State Chairman, Makes it Stronger by Also Asking Bryan to Come.

William Jennings Bryan will take part in the Indiana campaign. He received that invitation here yesterday from Bert Hendren, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Democratic State committee, who was sent to this city to tender the invitation. The time was not definitely arranged, but it will be in the latter part of October, and Mr. Bryan will be in the State three days and probably a week.

He is coming to Indiana specially in the interest of John W. Kern, who has the Democratic nomination for United States senator. Further than the announcement that he would come in the interest of Mr. Kern, and about the time he would come Mr. Bryan declined to make any statement.

After he had given his promise to Mr. Hendren Mr. Bryan went to the chautauqua grounds and delivered his lecture. Everyone expected him to talk politics. Elmer Bassett of Shelbyville, Republican chairman of the Sixth district; W. O. Barnard, congressman from the Sixth district, and Jonee Monahan, Republican nominee for treasurer of State, came to town to hear him. John Osborn, Democratic district chairman was also on hand.

The Indianapolis News says that William Jennings Bryan will make campaign speeches in Indiana this fall as announced by U. S. Jackson, Democratic State chairman.

"Yes, Mr. Bryan has been invited and he will speak, but the speaking dates have not yet been arranged," said Mr. Jackson last night, after a short conference with the great Commoner at the Denison hotel, where Mr. Bryan spent the night. However, Mr. Bryan himself would not say a word about what he intended to do in Indiana, saying it was best to allow the State committee to make any announcements that were to be made, and he continued to repel all attempts to get an expression from him on the local option question in Indiana. After delivering a chautauqua address at Rushville yesterday, Mr. Bryan came quietly to Indianapolis last night and left early this morning for Pana, Ill., where he will lecture today.

KNEELS ON ALTER OF HYMEN

Horatio Bennett is to be Married Tomorrow.

Horatio Bennett, who is employed at Darnell's bakery, left today for Philadelphia, Indiana, where he will take unto himself tomorrow a wife, who as a maiden is known as Della Breese. For the last few months he has made regular visits to the little hamlet of Hancock county and he hopes this one is the last one as a single man. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bennett.

THE WEATHER

Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Sunday. Cooler Sunday.

CLEANED UP WITH JERSEYS

John Boyd Took Every Prize in Sight at New Castle.

John Boyd cleaned up about everything in sight at the Henry county fair in New Castle this week with his Jersey cattle. Sweepstakes were no object to him and he generally took a first and a second whatever he had as an entry. He will show his cattle at the local fair.

WATER VICTIM'S FUNERAL SUNDAY

Services of George Rigdon of Morristown, Who Was Drowned Will be Held Tomorrow.

WAS SEIZED WITH CRAMPS

The funeral services of George Rigdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rigdon of Morristown, who was drowned in Clear Lake in Steuben county, Indiana, Thursday, will be held at the home tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. The body arrived last night. Young Rigdon was accompanied by Paul Williams on his northern trip. The two expected to furnish music at the summer resort.

Information, which came to the grief-stricken parents yesterday was to the effect that the boy was swimming in the lake and that he had allowed himself to drift away from the crowd. He was not a good swimmer and he soon tired out or was seized with cramps and sank to the bottom before aid could reach him.

MAY BE A REASON FOR GOOD WEATHER

Explanation Has Been Found For Ideal Conditions Prevailing During Chautauqua Week.

NOTHING MARS THE OCCASION

There may be some good reason for the good weather which has graced Rushville during chautauqua week. It will be remembered that last year there were several rainy days to mar the occasion and the crowds at several programs were diminished almost to the minimum by the unfavorable weather conditions. But this year it has been different and there is a reason. And it's all on account of a black cat.

Last year, Will Redman, who furnished the tent for the chautauqua, had a black cat. The feline always brought him good luck and for that reason he had it with him at the chautauqua. But it was sick several days and there was rain. But this year the cat is dead.

LAST RITES TO BE MONDAY

Funeral Services of Mrs. Fred Capp to be Held at Residence.

The funeral services of Mrs. Fred Capp, who died yesterday from a severe stroke of apoplexy, will be held at the residence in North Main street on next Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The Rev. J. W. Turner of the St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church will conduct the services. Burial will be made in East Hill cemetery.

COL. BAIN AND ASSEMBLY GOES

Noted Kentucky Orator Will Give Two Lectures at Chautauqua Sunday.

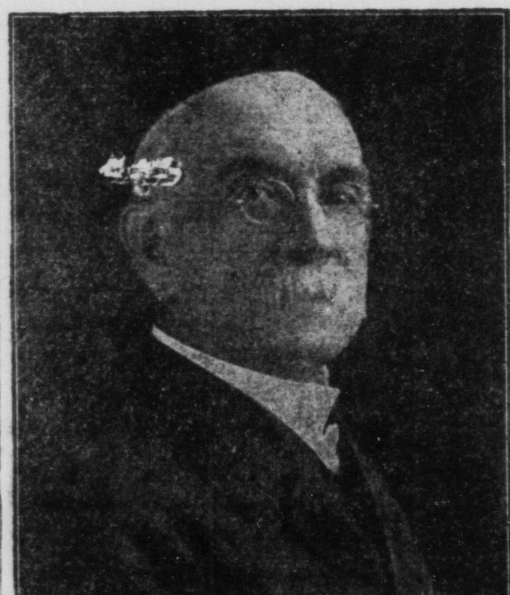

LOCAL TALENT GRACES STAGE

Carl Morris, "The Man From Home," Given an Appreciative Ovation Last Night.

*****
 7:30 Musical Prelude—Wagoner's Orchestra. Miss Vickery.
 8:00 Character Delineations—A. H. Burgderfer.
 *****
 SUNDAY.
 2:30 Sacred Concert—Mr. Maxwell and Chorus—Young Ladies Glee Club—Miss Vickery—Mr. Carl Morris.
 3:00 Lecture, "The Golden Gate or Age in Which we Live"—Col. Geo. W. Bain.
 7:30 Musical Prelude—Mr. Maxwell and Associates—Miss Vickery.
 8:00 Lecture, "Among the Masses"—Col. Geo. W. Bain.
 *****

When tomorrow has passed and Col. George W. Bain, the Kentucky orator, has delivered two lectures, what is pronounced by most people the best chautauqua in the seven years' history of the assembly in Rush county, will have become a matter of history. Col. Bain, who has the reputation of being one of the most highly successful lyceum men who has ever graced the platform. His name of the "Kentucky Orator" was given him only after he had acquired it rightfully. He is said to be a matchless talker, his masterful and sympathetic character shining out through all of his addresses. The man from the Blue Grass State will be here all day tomorrow and will be heard both afternoon and evening.

The musical preludes of tonight and tomorrow will savor highly of local talent, but that means much to Rushville people. When the talented musicians of Rushville can not put on a prelude that would compare favorably with the best on the platform today, then there is something vitally wrong. Wagoner's orchestra will be one of the star attractions again tonight. They appeared last night and created a very favorable impression. They will render a new and varied program tonight, consisting of popular airs and difficult music.

But speaking of local talent, the platform manager expects to have a chorus of one hundred voices Sunday which will put to shame most of the musical organizations that have appeared here. They will sing at both programs Sunday. The platform manager will also be assisted by several local soloists tomorrow. B. F. Miller, who was so roundly applauded for his solo yesterday afternoon, will sing again Sunday. He To be continued on page 8.

WILL SELL SOULS FOR SMALL PRICE

Question is Monster One Declares William Jennings Bryan in Chautauqua Lecture.

WAS GIVEN A GREAT OVATION

Applies Topic to Law, Ministry, Journalism and Politics—Greatest Crowd in Assembly History.

Bryan day has come and gone and so has the biggest day in the seven years' history of the chautauqua in this county. It is estimated that over four thousand people struggled, jammed and crowded to get a seat in the immense tent auditorium or even to get within hearing distance of the voice of the "Peerless Leader." The crowd was packed into the tent in such great numbers that the heat was intense and several women fainted.

William Jennings Bryan, who lectured on "The Price of a Soul" was given the greatest ovation ever given a platform lecturer at the chautauqua. When the Nebraska politician stepped up on to the platform, the audience arose as one and waved their handkerchiefs in wild frenzy, giving him the chautauqua salute. Loud cheers and cries of "Bryan" rent the air and it was several minutes before the platform manager could restore the audience to its normal condition. When the Commoner alighted from his automobile near the tent, it was with the greatest difficulty that he made his way to the platform. Women and children and men as well, crowded around the machine, hardly giving him room to get out. He was forced to wade through a sea of people, shaking hands here and there and occasionally petting a small child.

"The liquor question always presents different phases in different States," said Mr. Bryan in his chautauqua lecture. "My main interest has been in getting the initiative referendum through in Nebraska, and I have practically succeeded since all three of the parties have adopted it in their platforms. The ministers have said that the liquor question is a moral question and I would urge them to be more active than they have been, but I suggest that there are various ways in which these activities can be exerted.

"I suggest that it requires even more moral courage to reprove a church member for drinking than it does to condemn the saloon keeper at whose place he drinks, because the one is a member of the church and the other often is not. I believe more emphasis is going to be placed in the future than has been in the past upon the christian's duty to set a healthful example to his fellow man.

"I believe that ministers in the future more than in the past are going to emphasize the duty of total abstinence on the part of the members of their churches.

"I am not afraid that any christian will differ from me when I say that a man's example ought to be always helpful to those about him. When a man goes to vote on legislation on the liquor question he ought to ask himself conscientiously whether his vote is being cast according to his own conscience or whether it is in order to reap a pecuniary advantage to party.

"A man in public life must be overpraised by his friends to make up for what his enemies say about him. When some Republican says something mean about me I just smile, for a man can be in politics without being in office. I have found it easy.

"To be conservative I always leave a margin, and when I wish to be harsh I always quote. When I want To be continued on page 8.

ALCYFRAS IS A WINNER

Local Reinsman Drives Fast Mare to Victory at Lansing, Mich.

Alcyfras, the fast pacing mare in the stable of Harrie Jones, the local reinsman, won first money in the 2:08 pace at Lansing, Mich., yesterday with Jones on the sulky behind her. She won the second, third and fourth heats, making the last mile in mile in 2:05 1/4. She was expected to win at Detroit last week, but performed bad.

SENILITY IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Mrs. Mary Gilson Expired at One O'clock This Afternoon After a Short Illness.

SURVIVED BY NINE CHILDREN

Mrs. Mary Gilson, who was one of the oldest residents of this city, died this afternoon at one o'clock after a four days' illness pronounced as senility. Mrs. Gilson was a widow and had lived with some of her children for the last few years at the northwest corner of Pearl and Second streets. She would have been eighty years old on her next birthday, which would have been next January. Mrs. Gilson was a member of the St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church. The survivors are Mesdames Charles Worthington, Harrison Glover, William Wolung, the Misses Belle, Jennie, and Myrtle Gilson, William and Frank Gilson, all of this city, and James Gilson of Marion. The arrangements for the funeral have not been made as yet.

NO FIRSTS TAKEN BY LOCAL HORSES

Rushville Animals Did Not do as Well as Expected at Henry County Fair.

CLELL MAPLE IN THREE RACES

The Rushville horses, which were started in the races at the Henry county fair Thursday did not show as well as some of the local people expected them to show. In the 2:25 trot, which offered a purse of $500, Frank Lindsey started Redlock, and George Weeks drove Jerome, owned by Bruce Graham and J. K. Gowdy. Redlock got sixth and Jerome got seventh. The fastest heat of the race was in 2:17 1/4. Clell Maple drove Prospect Maid in the three-year-old pace, which was a $300 stake race. The local horseman got fifth three straight heats. The best time in the pace was 2:20 1/4. Maple started Princess Adso in the 2:17 pace yesterday and got fourth place, the fastest heat of the race was in 2:14 1/2. The same driver got second in the 2:30 trot with Dorothy C, being second in the fastest heat which was in 2:21 1/2.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

A marriage license was granted to Frank E. Pelham and Florence E. Wagner this morning. Both parties reside in Glenwood.

WOMEN FAINT.

The intense heat in the chautauqua tent yesterday afternoon during the Bryan lecture causes Miss Nellie McMillin and Mrs. Frank Cross to faint. They were soon revived.

SHOWS COMING TO ANNUAL FAIR

Secretary Will King Makes Contract With Educated Horse and Animal Show.

IS A HIGH CLASS ATTRACTION

Is Still Waiting to Close a Deal With Hiawatha Company Which May Appear Here.

Next after the chautauqua comes the county fair and it promises to out rival other exhibitions of its class for this year. The secretary, Will King, is busy attending other fairs, making contracts for shows, race horses and stands. He and T. A. Coleman were in New Castle this week and there obtained several attractions for the local fair. All of the stand and show men as well said that they were headed for Rush county and would be here for the annual exhibit.

So far the secretary has made arrangements for high class shows. By far the best attraction which he has been able to contract for is an educated horse and animal show. It is one of the leading shows making the rounds of the county fairs this year and promises to be a better attraction than any which has been on the local grounds for years. A wild west show has made application for the opportunity to show here but the secretary was compelled to refuse them on account of the lack of space. He says that practically all of his ground room is taken up by concessions now.

But he is saving some space for the Hiawatha show, with which he has been figuring for the last week. They made Mr. King an offer and he in turn offered them a contract which was not entirely satisfactory to them. Finally he went to Indianapolis and saw the owner of the show but was unable to see the business manager. He left two propositions with them, but has not yet received an answer. The Hiawatha show would be one of the best attractions which could be found for the fair as it is a classic reproduction of the poem by that name with a band of Indians in the company.

The races promise to be a big feature at the fair this year. The secretary is making an effort to give the highest class of racing which has ever been seen here and is lining up all of the good horses on the small track circuits for Rush county. He will go to the Muncie fair next week.

JUMPS ON WAGON AND STOPS RUNAWAY

Frightened Team Belonging to Jesse Retherford, Brought to Stop in Mad Dash by Ben Sparks.

Fearlessly jumping on a big wagon which was being dragged by a runaway team, belonging to Jesse Retherford, Ben Sparks finally stopped the frightened horses yesterday afternoon about three o'clock near the corner of Morgan and Ninth streets. The wagon contained about a ton and one-half of coal and the horses were running with the heavy load with apparent ease. The runaway threatened to break up the Bryan lecture crowd as the horses ran down Ninth street and threatened to dash into a buggy at any time. The horses were left standing near the Reynolds & Clifford factory and frightened when one of them knocked over a pile of lath.

MINERS CHEERED

When Official Letter to Senator Beveridge Was Read in Convention.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, August 13.—Senator Beveridge recently received the following letter from the department of the interior, which explains itself: "It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the secretary of the interior has approved the location of a mine rescue station in Evansville, Ind. This station is intended to serve the coal fields of southern Indiana, Illinois and western Kentucky. It will be the duty of the superintendent in charge of the station to train mine foremen, fire bosses, miners and others in the use of artificial breathing apparatus for the purpose of assisting in rescue work after mine disasters, and to aid in exploring and restoring the mines thereafter. To this end he will be subject at all times to calls from the state mine inspectors, mine owners, mine workers and others concerned. Immediate steps will be taken to secure a suitable location and to erect the necessary building. Your co-operation in acquainting the mining companies of this region with these facts, or in aiding in any other way which may occur to you, will facilitate the above purpose and will add to the usefulness of the station as a means of preventing loss of life and property in mining operations. Your assistance will be greatly appreciated." The letter was read at the meeting of coal miners in Indianapolis, and was received with enthusiasm by the miners, who know what it means to have a rescue station in easy reach.

Robert Bailey, an old time miner, who knows from experience the needs and desires of the mine workers, was well pleased to learn of the decision to place a rescue station in this territory. "If the station is to serve more territory than that comprised within Indiana, then Evansville is the proper place for the location of the station," said Mr. Bailey. Under the circumstances, the choice lay between Henderson, Kentucky, and Evansville, Ind. It appears that Senator Beveridge and the Indiana side of the argument had the stronger appeal. Evansville is somewhat nearer the center of the mining population than Henderson. Either Linton or Terre Haute would have made a good argument to secure the station, if it had been intended to serve only the Indiana field. Indiana has many more miners than either Illinois or Kentucky, in the districts to be served by this station. There are nearly 25,000 coal miners in Indiana. These men will appreciate the fact that the rescue station is so placed as to give them quick action in time of need. A half hour's time saved in a mine crisis may mean many lives saved. So it is more than worth while to have the rescue station at Evansville, rather than in another state."

Oscar E. Bland of the Second district, Republican candidate for congress, was instrumental in declaring, in the Second district Republican platform, in favor of a mine rescue station for the mining regions of this section. W. A. Cullop, Democratic congressman from the Second district, has been advocating a mine rescue station with much noise and fury for several weeks. His activity has come only since Mr. Bland promulgated the idea in his platform. Mr. Cullop demanded that the mine rescue station be located at Linton. He did not figure on placing the station at the center of mining population for the territory, but rather demanded that it be so placed as to give him political prestige and advantage. His efforts did not alter the purposes of the department of the interior. Another amusing phase of the mine rescue station matter is the effort being made by Congressman Boehne, the Democratic member for the First district, to assume credit for the location of the station. Those who know the facts as indicated in the letter from the department to Senator Beveridge are laughing at Boehne's tale of "How Betsy and I killed the bear."

State Chairman Lee of the Republican organization once more has shown by his conduct that he is not afraid to face conditions and strive for right settlement of party problems. Delaware and Grant counties are in a circuit for the selection of a superior judge. George W. Cromer and Fred McClelland of Delaware county and Robert M. Vanatta of Grant are candidates. Grant has thirty-five delegates, and Delaware has thirty-four. The two counties were supposed to agree on a convention date and attend to their own affairs. But they disagreed. Under the rules appeal was made to the state central committee. The Grant county people charged that the Delaware county crowd was trying to take undue advantage in making delegates by suggesting that the judicial delegates be made the same day congressional delegates were to be selected in the Eighth district. The Cromer people in Delaware averred the idea was put forward only in the interests of harmony promotion in the Eighth. Some members of the state committee desired to side-step the whole business. Chairman Lee would not permit any side-stepping. "We are not cowards," he said. "We are here to assume responsibilities under our own rules. There shall be no evasion." And there was no evasion. The committee met and did its duty fearlessly as best it could.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

Hoosier Poet Seriously Ill at His Home in Indianapolis.

POLICEMEN REFUSE TO DO STRIKE DUTY

A New Complication in Ohio's Capital.

Columbus, O., Aug. 13.—Induced by other city officials and members of the chamber of commerce against his better judgment to put policemen on cars as guards in the strike rioting, Mayor Marshall was confronted with a mutiny at roll call last night.

Thirty-five policemen positively refused to board cars as Mayor Marshall ordered. They declared they were threatened with boycott by grocers, butchers and other storekeepers who had said they would have to look to other stores for supplies if they rode on the cars. Included in the thirty-five, also, were some union men and some who said that they were in sympathy with union principles and some day might wish to be enrolled in the organizations. Not one of the thirty-five admitted that he was afraid to get on the cars.

The mayor said the mutiny reduced his night force to 104 men, which was enough to man the fifty cars the company intended to operate. None of the 150 special officers employed for strike duty was called upon to act as guards on cars, as the mayor had distributed them about the city for patrol or reserve duty. At the roll call the mayor announced his change of policy and said he would expect his new orders to be obeyed to the letter. Then those who during the day had been protesting against riding on the cars stepped aside and refused assignment, with the full knowledge that the mayor will dismiss them.

Stone throwing broke out early in the evening. It was to seize stone throwers and shooters that it was decided to guard the cars with policemen. Twenty-five members of car crews were beaten and stoned and one policeman was felled with a stone.

Would-Be Slayer Now in Jail.

Osgood, Ind., Aug. 13.—Andrew Wagner, who in a fit of jealous rage, shot his sweetheart, Rose Wagner, and her companion, Skinner Turner, near Napoleon, surrendered to the officers at Osgood and is now in jail at Versailles.

Fixing Up Their Defense.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—General Manager Arthur Meeker, Chief Counsel Alfred Union, and other prominent officers of Armour & Co., held an all-day conference in Mr. Union's office with Attorney John S. Miller to decide on a plan of defense to the federal indictment charging that Chief Counsel Union destroyed stenographers' notes to prevent their falling into the hands of the grand jury. Meanwhile the indictment of individuals in the beef inquiry was regarded as a certainty in the federal building.

A Plucky Roachdale Boy.

Roachdale, Ind., Aug. 13.—Harvey Ayers, aged sixteen, was badly crushed beneath the wheels of a Monon engine. The boy's left arm was cut off near the shoulder and he received serious scalp wounds. After the accident the boy picked up his hat and walked to his home. His recovery is doubtful.

Boasted and Was Trapped.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 13.—A letter to her sister in Indianapolis telling how she was "trimming" her employer by a systematic "rake-off" forced a complete confession from Mrs. Zetta Zenger, arrested for stealing from the cafe where she worked. Mrs. Zenger had written the letter, but had not mailed it.

CITIES WILL REAP THE BENEFIT OF THE NEW EXHIBITION PLANS

No Divided Displays Necessary Many Cities and Towns Have Arranged Collective Exhibits To Be Shown From August 29 to September 24.

The general impression that the industrial portions of all exhibitions are alike will be put to rest by the management of the Ohio Valley Exposition next fall, when several new departures in the line of displays will be offered visitors in a way to add greatly to the general attractiveness and commercial value of the project.

Ever since exhibitions were inaugurated it has been the custom to segregate various industries, placing certain lines of manufactured articles in one department, thereby creating a continuous display of shoes, or dry goods, or stoves, or furniture, as the case might be. In this way no city received the credit due for its industries, and no industry received the individual attention to which it was entitled because of its being thrown in with many similar specimens in one grand display.

When detailed plans for conducting the Ohio Valley Exposition were being worked out, it was suggested that better and more satisfactory results could be obtained, especially for the industries of the smaller cities of the Ohio Valley, if each city were allowed to display examples of all her products under one roof. In this way, it was argued, the products of a city like Portsmouth or Springfield, for instance, would not be scattered through five or six buildings, but would be exhibited in one collective display, giving the city the prominence it deserved and at the same time giving distinction to each industry represented.

This idea has been carried out in the mammoth "Municipal Building," located on the canal, and extending from the elbow at the head of Plum eral Davison of the Exposition. "Their contributions to the Expositions would be scattered all over the display space, with the result that neither the city nor the firm represented received full credit for its display. In order to obviate this handicap and bring all exhibitors in on an equal footing, whether they have much or little to display, this plan of creating collective municipal exhibits was evolved, and a special building designed for these exhibits.

"So great has been the demand for space in this building to date that the prospects are that we will be compelled to enlarge the present building or erect another structure for the accommodation of the Ohio Valley cities and their industries."

NINE-FOOT STAGE BOOMS BUSINESS

Packet Companies Add Boats to Ohio River Lines.

Cincinnati, O., (Special).—Although the greater portion of the improvements in the Ohio river authorized by congress for the creation of a nine-foot stage of water the year round has not yet been begun, the anticipated benefits of this tremendous undertaking, calling for an outlay of approximately $60,000,000, are already being taken advantage of.

The Louisville and Cincinnati Packet Company, which operates a

FIRST GASOLINE AUTOMOBILE

This car, built in 1877 by George Selden, and forming the basis for all patents on gasoline automobiles now being constructed, was invented by George Selden, who is seated in the car, and who still is manufacturing machines. The original Selden car will be exhibited at the Ohio Valley Exposition at Cincinnati, Aug. 29 to Sept. 24.

street almost to the Twelfth street bridge. In this roomy structure will be located the assembled exhibits of a majority of the cities of the Ohio Valley. Here Portsmouth, O., will display her knitting mills, shoe factories, brick machinery, nonexplosive gas range and other commodities manufactured in that city. Here Owensboro, Ky., will show the "shovel without a backache," with which the Panama canal is being dug, and the "whisky without a headache," as well as products of her tobacco fields and orchards. Indianapolis will bring over examples of some ten or twelve of her manufactured products, all assembled under the Indianapolis banner, while Springfield, O., Louisville, Ky., Wheeling, Pittsburg, Evansville, Cairo, Paducah and other cities on the broad Ohio from Pittsburg to Cairo, will follow this lead. The result will be a collection of municipal exhibits, displayed under city flags, the like of which has never before graced and distinguished an industrial exposition.

It has been promised, too, that many of these municipal exhibits will be further enhanced by having among their features working displays, such as knitting mills; shoe manufacturing machinery in operation; cooking stoves utilized for baking; brick-making machinery; gas engines; electric lighting generators; worsted mills looms, and a number of others, thereby showing not only the finished products, but also how they are made.

"I have found heretofore in handling exhibitions that the exhibitors of the smaller cities never had a fair show," remarked Commissioner Gen-line of boats between Cincinnati and Louisville, and also has subsidiary lines, has added to the scope of its operations by purchasing two additional boats, which will be placed in service between Louisville and Evansville, thereby giving continuous daily service under one management from Cincinnati and way points to Evansville. The officials of the company are free in saying that this amplification of their operations is due directly to the anticipated revival and the greatly increased volume of river traffic which is certain to result from the improvements now being made and authorized.

Another earnest of this anticipated boom in river traffic is found in the diligence which various Ohio river communities are showing in the Ohio Valley Exposition, which will be held in Cincinnati from August 29 to September 24, and which is designed principally to exploit the industries and products of the Ohio Valley and the South. Portsmouth, O., for instance, has secured 21,300 square feet of exhibition space at the Exposition for the display of her industries.

Speaking of the benefits of a perpetual navigable stage of the Ohio, Hon. Albert Bettinger, vice president of the Ohio River Improvement Association, said: "With uninterrupted navigation the year round, the Ohio Valley, from Pittsburg to Cairo, eventually will resolve itself into one continuous line of factories. When these improvements are completed and the Panama canal opened, the manufacturers of the Ohio Valley will be able to compete with foreign nations for the business of any section of the world."

CHURCH NEWS

—Rev. W. E. Shultz of New Castle will preach at the Fairview Christian church on the second and fourth Sundays of each month, morning and evening.

—Regular services conducted by Father Cronin at St. Mary's Catholic church Sunday at 7 and 9 a. m.

—First Church of Christ, Scientist will have their usual meeting at their room over Poe's jewelry store, Sunday morning services at 10:45. Sunday school will be held in the morning at 10 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—The Union Mission Sunday school will meet Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Mission church in South Pearl street. The Public is cordially invited to this service.

—Regular services at the Main Street Christian church Sunday morning when the pastor will preach. Sunday school at 9:15 in the morning. No evening service will be held on account of the chautauqua.

—Little Flatrock Christian church—10:00 a. m., Bible school. At 11:00 a. m. Miss Franklin, a returned missionary from India, will speak. The members are urged to attend this service. No evening service.

—Usual services at the United Presbyterian church Sabbath at 10:30 p. m., by the pastor, Rev. A. W. Jamieson, D. D. No services at night on account of the chautauqua. Sabbath school at 9:15 a. m. prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. A cordial welcome to all these meetings.

MINE TREASURY WITHOUT FUNDS

Powerful Labor Organization Practically Bankrupt.

DELEGATES HAD SUSPECTED IT

A Condition Suspected by Many and Feared by All Was Revealed in the Reports of Officers Made to the Special Convention of the United Mine Workers—May Have an Effect on the War of the Factions.

Indianapolis, Aug. 13.—What has been suspected by many of the delegates to the miners' convention and feared by all, came to light in discussing the reports of officers when it was discovered that the treasury is practically bankrupt and the organization is in debt to locals for borrowed money to the amount of $125,000. In addition to this there is an overdraft of $2,000 unpaid, and to meet the expenses of this convention the miners must depend upon the assessments of the present week.

This condition, contrasted with that of five years ago, when the organization had a bank balance of nearly $1,000,000, is creating more discussion than the quarrel between President Lewis and Walker, for the delegates declare that with $5,000 men idle and the treasury bankrupt there seems nothing in store for them but to return to work on the terms offered by the operators. Lewis and his supporters believe the financial condition will bring the Illinois miners to respect the agreement made by the executive board with the operators, though there is much criticism of his administration because of what is believed to be needless expenditure of money.

Since the strike was inaugurated in April the executive board has ordered the payment of benefits to the strikers aggregating $65,000 a week and these on Aug. 8 totaled $674,000. The expenses of the organization in the same time, including the payment of organizers, aggregated $185,338, leaving the treasury bare on the day the convention assembled and with nothing to depend on except the 25 cents per week assessment which each miner at work is expected to pay.

President Lewis has been placed on the defensive by this condition, but says every cent paid out was ordered by the executive board and that the organization has nothing to fear if Illinois miners will obey the board's orders and return to work.

Pain anywhere stopped in 20 minutes sure with one of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. The formula is on the 25-cent box. Ask your Doctor or Druggist about this formula! Stops womanly pains, headache, pains anywhere. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for free trial to prove value of his Headache, or Pink Pain Tablets. Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

Struck A Rich Mine.

Japan first became famous for good tea, but a tea that will make and keep people well. Dr. King's New Health Tea is fast gaining world-wide fame. It's nature's remedy for Constipation, Kidney Trouble, Indigestion, Headache, Malaria and Female Complaints. 25c at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s

For Quick Relief From Hay Fever.

Asthma and summer bronchitis, take Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly relieves the discomfort and suffering and the annoying symptoms disappear. It soothes and heals the inflamed tubes. In contains no opiates and no harmful drugs. Refuse substitutes. F. B. Johnson & Co.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For this, druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First these tiny inside Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas belching, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is the nerves, not the organs that are calling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

EXCURSION

to Michigan City

Saturday Night, August 20

$1.75 Round Trip

L. E. & W. R. R.

Special train leaves Rushville 9 p. m. Arrives Michigan City 6 a. m. Returning leaves Michigan City 9:00 p. m. Sunday, August 21st For information see Agent L. E. & W.

PENNSYLVANIA LINES

NIAGARA FALLS

$6.50 Excursion

From Rushville

August 23, 1910

RAIL AND STEAMER OR ALL RAIL

Via Cleveland and Buffalo

Get particulars from Agent

I &amp; C. TRACTION CO.

Every Sunday

$1.00

Rushville

to

Indianapolis

and return

Tickets good going and returning on all trains of Sunday for which sold

ROOSEVELT TO MAKE BIG FIGHT

Expected to Use His Energy to Bring About Revival of Country Life Commission.

AT CONSERVATION CONGRESS

Matter Will be Presented by Walter H. Page, Editor of the World's Work.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 13.—One result of the second National Conservation Congress in St. Paul, September 5-9, may be the revival of the Country Life Commission, a Roosevelt project which fell by the wayside after Representative Tawney of Minnesota had succeeded in having an amendment which put it out of business, tacked on to the sundry civil bill.

In his speech before the congress on September 6, Col. Roosevelt is expected to have something to say concerning the Country Life Commission and he no doubt will throw his energy into the fight to have the commission restored to good standing. President Taft likewise may say something on the subject and a movement is likely to result that will end in urging congress to appropriate sufficient funds to carry on the work.

If the plans of certain persons interested in the matter are carried out there may result a sort of affiliation between the National Conservation Commission and the Country Life Commission.

The matter will be presented to the conservation congress by Walter H. Page, editor of World's Work who is on the program to speak on "The Farmer and the Nation." James J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern Railway board, who always has the interests of the farmer at heart, probably will take up the matter in his address on "Crops, Food and Clothing." Gifford Pinchot, may also have something to say on the subject. Liberty Hyde Bailey, dean of the Agricultural College of Cornell University; Kenyon L. Butterfield of Massachusetts and Charles S. Barrett of Georgia, are going to lend their assistance to the movement, as is Henry Wallace of Des Moines, Ia.

The appointment of the Country Life Commission by President Roosevelt attracted considerable attention. It was intended as an uplift for the farmer and improving of farm conditions.

Before congress cut off the funds the commissioners visited various sections of the country and questioned the farmers, their wives, their grown sons and daughters. Of particular interest in the report made by the commission were the answers given by the farmers' wives. The women complained that while the sulky plow, the self binder, the hay stacker and the traction engine with their canopies to keep off the sun, had made life easier for the men on the farms, but little had been done to relieve the women of the drudgery of the farm. Those complaints touched Roosevelt and he wants to see such conditions improved.

No risk, no trouble, if you use CLARK'S PURITY FLOUR.

Says That Local Option Has Not Proven a Failure

The Rev. W. H. Book, pastor of the Tabernacle Christian church, preached last Sunday night on the subject, "Is Local Option a Failure in Columbus?" He declared that it is not, and he gave his reasons at length says the Columbus Republican.

Mr. Book said that the history of every temperance community had been that every effort was put forth during the first two "dry" years to make the local option law appear obnoxious. He said he had found in this connection that those who yelled blind tigers the loudest were generally those who had voted "wet" and who wanted the saloons back again.

With respect to the statement that more liquor is sold in "dry" than in "wet" territories. Mr. Book said this was false on its face, or else the brewers and distillers would all be voting and working "dry" in order to increase their sales.

Mr. Book declared that open saloons will not do away with blind tigers. He pointed to Gary, Indianapolis, and other places where there are licensed saloons, and said that these places had blind tigers also. The saloon does not do away with the blind tiger in any community, he insisted.

In reply to the charge that there is more drunkenness now than there was when Columbus had saloons, Mr. Book said that when the saloons were here the drunk men were not seen on the streets. Instead, they laid around saloons and worked off their jags. Now, he said that a drunk man could not be allowed to remain in a blind tiger and he was pushed to the street where all might see him. The speaker said that when Columbus had saloons more drunk men and loafers could be seen in one square of Washington street in one day than can now be seen in three months.

Another phase of the question, the speaker said, is the charge that more arrests are being made now than when the city was "wet." This he said, showed that the officers were enforcing the laws better than they have been enforced in the past. He made the statement that if the laws had been enforced as well when Columbus had saloons as they are now there would not be days enough in the year to try the cases of alleged violators.

It is said that the drug stores are selling the bulk of the whiskey, the minister said, but he denied this, and proceeded to tell the reasons for his denial. He stated there were at least fifty men employed here as saloon keepers and bar tenders when the saloons were running and that they were all busy selling liquor. They were out of that business now, he said, and this left fifty fewer men to wait on the customers wanting drinks. At the same time, he said, not a single drug store in the city had increased its clerical force since the town went "dry," and he did not believe that the same force could sell as much liquor as fifty saloon keepers and bartenders.

Mr. Book said he had made an investigation here into the economic side of the question, and he declared he had found there was more building and more repair work being done during the past year than ever before in the history of the city. He said he knew of people who had to be helped through the charitable department of the church during the time the saloons were open and that now these people did not have to ask for charity. He said he had known men here who were little better than vagrants and that now they were at work, sober and industrious.

Mr. Book said he interviewed forty leading business men in Columbus and that out of that number only one told him local option had hurt his business. On the other hand, he said twenty men volunteered the statement that their business had been increased since the saloons went out and the others said they did not notice any difference in the volume of their business. This, he said, proved to him that local option does not kill a town commercially.

Mr. Book is a prohibitionist at heart, and he put in a plea for the prohibition of intoxicating liquor, declaring that the abolition of the stuff is the only way the question will be solved right. He asked for a more strict law on the druggists so that they will not be allowed to sell liquor save where they are certain it goes for medicinal purposes. Another way to have local option success, the minister said, was to elect men to office who are in sympathy with the law and who will help enforce it.

"It takes two men to run a blind tiger," said Mr. Book, and he insisted that the man who goes to a blind tiger and buys a drink is just as guilty as the man who sells the liquor unlawfully. He urged the men of Columbus to stand behind the law and the official and to give moral stamina to the effort being made to enforce the law's provisions.

Mr. Book said he felt called upon to commend Mayor Barnaby, Chief of Police Cooper, and Prosecuting Attorney O'Donnell for their action taken in the law enforcement. He said he hoped Sheriff Cox would try and enforce the law, because he declares he had voted for Sheriff Cox and considered that the sheriff was his sheriff. He said Sheriff Cox was elected by the temperance voters of the county and was responsible to them for his actions.

Acute or Chronic — Which?

No matter if your kidney trouble is acute or chronic Foley's Kidney Remedy will reach your case. Mr. Claude Brown, Reynoldsville, Ill., writes us that he suffered many months with kidney complaint which baffled all treatment. At last he tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and a few large bottles effected a complete cure. He says, "It has been of inestimable value to me."

To keep your health sound; to avoid the ills of advancing years; to conserve your physical forces for a ripe and healthful old age, guard your kidneys by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. F. B. Johnson & Co.

Daily Rest For Women

No woman who has work to do and who values health, should neglect to take a rest each day. The ideal rest should follow soon after the midday meal. Loose clothing, which allows the body to relax completely in lying down is of great importance.

Darken the room and have plenty of fresh air to enter it and in comfortable garb stretch out well on the bed or couch, lightly but warmly and cozily covered.

Then, closing the eyes, shut out for a brief space the world and its cares. Sleep will usually come.

If the brain is too active to be easily composed, it may prove necessary to read a little to divert it to new and restful channels of a thought. Arrange, as far as possible, to be left free from interruption.

Even fifteen minutes so spent is of value, but half an hour to an hour is what nearly every woman owes to herself and family.

Shines Like The Sun.

Great cures have made the name Electric Bitters a household word everywhere. They will electrify any weak, tired or run down system with glorious health. Every nerve, muscle, fiber and atom of your being responds to their grand tonic power. Try them. Only 50c. at F. B. Johnson & Co.

Smoke FAIR PROMISE 5c Cigars.

To eat good bread you must use Clark's Purity Flour.

Pictures and Mirrors at bargain prices. See Bradway.

All loss in home canned goods stopped by using Economy fruit jars. Call at L. L. Allen's and see it demonstrated. 116tf

For information how to order and receive Bottled Beers, Ales or Porter for medicinal and family use telephone 1106. 106tf

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Oh! Mister Jupiter

As sung in the new musical comedy

"A SKYLARK"

Presented by HENRY B. HARRIS, at the New York Theatre

Lyrics by WILLIAM HARRIS, Jr.

Music by FRANK G. DOSSERT

Musical score for "Oh! Mister Jupiter" from "A Skylark". The score is written for voice and piano. It includes the following lyrics: "trust you will sur-mise; that its fine, and the time is ex-treme-ly late to rise; So hark-en to our ser-e-nade, We sound the rev-cil-le, So hark-en to our ser-e-nade, and please get up to-day. An-oth-er day.... will soon have fled,.... If you don't hus-tle out of bed; Oh! oh! oh! Mis-ter Ju-pi-ter, Kind-ly get up and shine."

Copyright, MCMX, by LEO FEIST, 134 West 37th St., New York
International Copyright and Performing Rights Secured and Reserved
Musical Dictionary and Teacher's Assistant for 2 cent stamp and the name of your dealer Used by permission, MURRAY MUSIC CO., New York. No. 232.

Musical score for "Oh! Mister Jupiter" from "A Skylark". The score is written for voice and piano. It includes the following lyrics: "trust you will sur-mise; that its fine, and the time is ex-treme-ly late to rise; So hark-en to our ser-e-nade, We sound the rev-cil-le, So hark-en to our ser-e-nade, and please get up to-day. An-oth-er day.... will soon have fled,.... If you don't hus-tle out of bed; Oh! oh! oh! Mis-ter Ju-pi-ter, Kind-ly get up and shine."

Oh! Mister Jupiter.

No. 232.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN

Published Daily except Sunday by THE REPUBLICAN COMPANY

J. FEUDNER, President and General Superintendent.

Office in Republican Building, Northwest Corner Second and Perkins Streets.

Entered as second-class matter March 22, 1904, at the postoffice at Rushville, Indiana, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

One week, delivered by carrier.....10
One year in the city by carrier.....$4.00
One year delivered by mail.....$3.00

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

ROY HARROLD, City Editor.

Saturday, August 13, 1910.

Isn't This Town A Pretty Good Town? If Not, Why Not?

How do you like the town you live in?

Pretty fair sort of a place, isn't it? Otherwise you'd move to some other town, wouldn't you?

But you don't think much of this town, you say? Well, what's the matter with this town? If there's anything wrong, let's all get together and right it.

All of us live here, and we ought to pull together. Nobody living in New York or Chicago or St. Louis or San Francisco is going to do any pulling FOR us.

On the contrary, some of those cities are doing a lot of pulling FROM us. They not only pull away some of our best young men as the boys grow up, but they pull away many of our good American dollars, which ought to be spent right here where they would do the most good.

What is your favorite book? The Mail Order Catalogue? Ah, so we thought!

Now suppose, just for a change, you read your local paper carefully, watch the advertisements, and if you don't see what you want ask the home merchant for it. Suppose all of us trade at home a little more regularly. That ought to help make this a better town.

And maybe if we'd keep more of our money at home to build up the town we'd keep more boys at home.

LOCAL NEWS

E. L. Kennedy has purchased a Franklin touring car.

Miss May Poston is ill at her home in West Third street.

"Aunt" Fanny Havens is sick at her home in West Third street.

Mrs. Will Case is recovering rapidly from a three weeks' illness.

Will Meredith, who is ill at his home in North Morgan street, is some better today.

The fourth quarter communion will be held at the St. Paul M. E. church tomorrow morning.

The six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Holman is ill at their home, south of the city.

"Aunt" Namie Meredith, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Thursday remains about the same.

There will be no services at any of the churches tomorrow evening on account of the chautauqua.

An automobile party from Brookville was here today advertising the carnival which will be held there.

The sixth annual reunion of the Ash family will be held at the Shelby county fair grounds tomorrow.

William Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kramer, is indisposed at their home in North Harrison street.

Gideon Wellman is improving rapidly from the injuries which he received in a runaway several weeks ago.

The annual reunion of the Parker family will be held in the Lock Grove six and one-half miles south of here Wednesday, August 17.

Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. It is the weak nerves that are crying out for help. Vitalize these weak inside controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and see how quickly good health will come to you again. Test it and see! Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

Foley Kidney Pills.

Tonic in quality and action, quick in results. For backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, urinary irregularities and rheumatism. F. B. Johnson & Co.

Beautiful Switzerland

Described by Rev. W. R. Jinnett. Also Visits the Daughter of Captain Gowdy, at Zurich.

The most beautiful country in its scenic features which we have visited, is Switzerland. The surface of the country is greatly diversified, and notwithstanding it is a very small country, being 220 miles long and 140 miles wide, it presents a great variety of physical features. It has an area of 15,976 square miles and about 3,000,000 people.

This beautiful country is situated in the central and northern Alps. The highest point of these mountains is Mt. Blanc, nearly 16,000 feet, near the angle of France, Italy and Switzerland. Switzerland is a confederated republic of 22 divisions called cantons.

The chief river is the Rhine, which winds around the northern side of Switzerland and penetrates to the St. Gothard from the east. With its tributaries it drains seventy per cent. of the territory of the country and most of its lakes.

Many beautiful lakes are situated in Switzerland. Among these are, Lake Geneva, Constance, Neuchatel, Maggiore, Lucerne, Zurich, Lugano, Thun, Bienne, Zug and Brienz, with a combined area of 520 miles. The area of the glaciers (perpetual ice and snow) is 710 square miles. Some of these glaciers are so easily balanced that the sound of a human will send an avalanche of snow and ice down the mountain side, leaving death and destruction in its path. There are certain places where the guides cautioned us not to speak above a whisper, lest we might displace some of these great mountains of ice and snow.

The climate of this country presents great features of interest. The southern slope is remarkable mild, the northern part cool and rigorous. The contrasts of the seasons is greatest in the valley where, in winter, the temperature is twenty-five degrees below zero, while in summer the temperature is from 70 to 80 above zero. A very peculiar wind known as the Föhn sweeps over the country from the south in the spring season causing the snow to disappear as if by magic. This wind parches the ground and foliage and increases the danger of fires.

No one tries to live more than 5,000 feet above the level of the sea, except in the little hamlet of Juf which is 7000 feet, the highest in Europe. The people who live in the higher valleys have larger bodies and feet than those below, and such a thing as consumption is unknown among them. However, pneumonia and pleurisy, asthma, scrofula and rheumatism are prevalent. In the deep, moist valleys, where there is little sunshine, goiter and cretinism occur very frequently. But these disappear as more cleanly habits are introduced among the people.

Mining is carried on a limited scale; but the stone quarries yield immense quantities of building stone. The chief products are wine and cereals. Some parts of the country are rich in flora and in the Alpine region a species of violet and Edelweiss which reach the margin of perpetual snow.

The fauna of the country is very limited, but fish are abundant and fish culture is much practiced.

The soil does not yield sufficient nourishment for the population, hence there are a great many factories. Chief among these are the watch factories, where up to a short time ago the finest and best watches in the world were made. But Switzerland has yielded her secret of watch making to other parts of the world and this industry is following the star of the empire westward.

Switzerland has 1,000 hotels, employing 16,000 people, with an invested capital of $64,000,000.00, yielding an annual income of $10,500,000.

In religion there is absolute freedom of conscience; about 60 per cent. of the people being Protestants and the remainder Roman Catholic. Protestants are Calvinistic in doctrine and Presbyterian in their form of government. Education is compulsory and free. The people are intelligent, happy and prosperous.

We visited Lucerne, Basel, Geneva and Zurich. Lucerne is one of the most beautiful cities of Switzerland; capital of the canton of Lucerne; on the Reuss, at the northern end of Lake Lucerne. In the middle of the city rises an old tower which is believed to have been once a lighthouse, Lucerena, and given the name of the town. It has some remarkable churches and a celebrated monument called the "Lion of Lucerne," carved in the solid rock after a model of Thorwaldsen, in remembrance of the Swiss guard butchered in Paris, Aug. 10, 1792. A very brisk tourist trade is carried on here. She has a population of 20,314.

Basel is one of the important cities of Switzerland, beautifully situated on both sides of a branch of the Rhine river, near the head of navigation. It is the most important commercial and manufacturing city of the country. Among its public buildings is a fine cathedral built in the 11th century by Emperor Henry II. The University of Basel, founded in 1459, once had a very high reputation and was one of the centers of the Protestant reformation. Erasmus died while in its service and from this place Luther's writings were printed in 1519. The city also contains a museum of natural history, a botanical garden, and a library with 160,000 volumes and 4,000 manuscripts. The museum of art contains a fine collection of the works of the younger Holbein.

Geneva is situated on the Rhone, where it issues from Lake Geneva. The city is of great antiquity and is mentioned in Caesar's commentaries. In 456 the town came under Burgundian sway, and in 534 it was incorporated with the kingdom of the Franks. Its industry is nearly confined to the manufacture of watches, music boxes, and jewelry, which, however, is very considerable. Its trade is simply retail.

Geneva's monuments are of no great magnificence; but its beautiful situation, the celebrated part it has played in European civilization as the center of Calvinism, and the remarkable manner in which its citizens, through centuries and at every risk, have shown themselves equal to their position, have made Geneva one of the most conspicuous places in Europe. As it was, in the time of Calvin, a religious and ecclesiastical center, whose influence was felt throughout Europe, so it has become, since the end of the eighteenth century, the center of a remarkable scientific activity. Here lived Rousseau, Belue in meteorology; deSaussure in general physics and geology; de Candolle in botany; de la Rive in electricity; Pietet in paleontology; Merle d'Aubigne in history; all masters of the first rank in their respective sciences, have given it celebrity. The educational institutions of Geneva and its scientific collections are very celebrated. Duke Charles II. of Brunswick, who died at Geneva Aug. 19, 1873, bequeathed to the city his whole fortune, about 20,000,000 francs.

Geneva was for many centuries the seat of a bishop of the Roman Catholic church, but in 1528 Protestantism invaded the country, which in 1535 was adopted as the religion of the State. During the XVIII century the city was called the Rome of Protestantism. There is, however, absolute freedom of worship and opinion at this time.

Zurich is situated on the Limmat, where it issues from the Lake of Zurich. It is a well built city, but somewhat old fashioned in appearance. It has a university, a public library with more than 100,000 volumes, a botanical garden, several museums of natural history, polytechnic school, belonging to the government, where pupils from the whole of Europe gather. Its manufactures comprise silk, cotton, leather, ribbons, and lace. It has a population of about 100,000.

Zurich is at this time the seat of the United States Consul General. This post is most ably filled by Mr. Robert G. Mansfield whose wife is the daughter of Rush county's most distinguished citizen, Capt. John K. Gowdy, who was formerly Consul General to France, a post of honor which he filled with great credit to himself, to the honor of his nation and the immortal McKinley who appointed him to this position. It was our pleasure to make an informal call upon Mr. Mansfield and his wife. They received us most cordially and treated us with the most distinguished courtesy. Mr. Mansfield has the confidence not only of the people of the government which he represents; but also of the people among whom he lives. He is untiring in his efforts to serve his country and render the most meritorious service possible in every capacity in which he is called to serve. We shall always have pleasant memories of our stay in Zurich, largely because of the efforts of Mr. Mansfield and his most estimable wife in our behalf.

W. R. JINNETT.

Zurich, July, 1910.

Good Housekeepers Use the Best.

That's why they use Red Cross ball blue. At leading grocers, 5 cents.

Follow the crowd and go to Bradways's Closing Out Sale.

Rheumatism promptly drives from the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy. Rub-ons never did cure Rheumatism. The blood must be reached—and Dr. Shoop's Remedy is made expressly for the blood. Test it and see! Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

THE
REXALL STORE
Main at Third Street

RUBBER GOODS

We buy our rubber goods direct from manufacturer, hence, the Standard of Quality.

FOR THE SICK ROOM

We carry Crutches, Trusses, and in fact everything needed in the sick room.

TO THE HORSEMEN

We have a full line of medicines for horses.

LYTLE'S
Drug Store

WHEN WE PUT UP YOUR ORDER

for groceries here we go over carefully to see that nothing is left out and that everything is just as ordered. And you'll find our delivery service delightfully prompt. Price and quality are not the only things looked after here.

Fresh Milk from Blackledge's in pints or quarts.

L. L. ALLEN,
GROCER. PHONE 1420

HORSE SALE

The undersigned will sell at public sale at Manilla, Ind., on Wednesday, August 24th, 1910

beginning at 10:30 o'clock a. m.:

- 62 head of Horses.
- 8 Head of Mules.
- 100 head of Native Yearling Ewes.
- 1 Percheron Registered Mare.
- 1 Pure Bred Percheron colt.
- 1 Shetland Pony with Buggy and Harness.

All Stock Sold Under a Strict Guarantee

AUCTIONEERS: F. A. Capp and D. C. Karr

CLERKS: Thomas K. Mull and George W. Cross

L. H. MULL, Manilla, Ind.

"REGAL 30"

"The Ideal Car for All Purposes"

$1250

$1250

Powerful Reliable Beautiful Durable

Standard equipment, Remy High-tension Magneto, Five Lamps, Gas Generator, Horn, Complete Tire Equipment, Tire Repair Kit. Will put on Mohair Top, Rand Automatic Glass Wind Shield, Stewart Speedometer for $100.00 extra. You are not trying an experiment as you have seen the "Regal" prove its superiority here in Rush county.

Rushville, Ind.

E. W. CALDWELL, Agent

Phone 1489

Particular Women

Patronize our store because they get the best quality of everything at reasonable prices. It makes no difference what department it may be in. Whether it is our soda fountain department, our drug department, our sundrie department, or our Wall Paper and Paint department, everyone is treated alike. That is the reason that so many people trade at our store. If you are not already one of our customers, come in and get acquainted. We deliver the goods. Phone 1408.

F. B. Johnson & Co.
Drugs, Wall Paper and Paints

The Madden Bros. Co.

Rushville, Indiana

General Repair Work

Automobiles, Engines, Steam Pumps, Boilers,
Machinery of all kinds, Lawn Mowers, etc.

Phone 1632

517 W. Second St.

Established 1859

J. B. SCHRICHTE SONS

Our display of monuments this year excels all former efforts. We can give you expert advice on all subjects relating to monumental work. If you are interested come and see us and secure a bargain at our works.

BEAUTY AND PERMANENCE OUR MOTTO

J. B. SCHRICHTE SONS

BEN A. COX

Come in and let us show you the
New Fall Creations in SHOES

that are arriving daily

New Creations in high arch last.
Very Stylish and Comfortable Fitting

The Shoe Man

Ben A. Cox

Rushville, Ind.

ABSTRACTS OF TITLE FIRE and TORNADO INSURANCE FIDELITY and SURETY BONDS BURGLARY INSURANCE GEORGE W. OSBORNE,

240 Main Street

Telephone 1336

PUBLIC SALE

The undersigned will sell at public sale on

Tuesday, August 23d, 1910,

at the Sylvester Hilligoss farm, 4 miles southeast of Homer and 8 miles southwest of Rushville, beginning at 9:30 a. m., the following personal property to-wit:

Household Goods and Kitchen Utensils, Stoves, Farming Tools, Harness, Carts, Buggies, Wagons, Turf Goods, one Bike Cart and one Sulky.

16 head of Steers, weighing about 1100 pounds; 45 head of graded Shorthorn Steers, weighing about 650 pounds; 5 head of Shorthorn heifers, all bred; 2 Shorthorn Heifers with Calves; 2 Shorthorn Cows, 6 years old, with Calves a month old; 1 Shorthorn Cow, in Calf; 1 Registered Shorthorn Bull, 1 Graded Shorthorn Bull, 2 Calves, 267 head yearling, 2 and 3-year-old graded Breeding Ewes, 12 head of Mares and Colts, 40 head of Shoats, weighing more than 100 pounds; 8 Sows and Pigs; 12 Brood Sows, bred to farrow in September and October; 1 two-year-old Poland Boar; 1000 to 2000 bushels of Corn, the undivided one-half of 135 acres of growing Corn 200 bushels Oats, more or less, and other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE

All sums under $5.00, cash on day of sale, on all sums over $5.00, a credit of twelve months will be given without interest, purchaser giving good freehold security. Six per cent. off for cash. No property to be removed until terms of sale are complied with.

Lunch will be served by the Ladies' Aid of the Big Flatrock Church.

D. C. CARR, Aucr. LON H. MULL, Executor I. R. Webb, CARL WEBB, Clerks

FREDERICK HILLIGOSS,

CYRUS HILLIGOSS

PERSONAL POINTS

—Will Regan of Connersville was here yesterday.

—Mrs. W. B. Wright is the guest of friends in Indianapolis.

—Morris Winship was a business visitor in Indianapolis today.

—Al Newsom of Carthage was a visitor in this city yesterday.

—Elmer Bassett of Shelbyville was a visitor in this city yesterday.

—Warren P. Elder has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

—Clyde Miller has returned from an extended stay in Alliance, Neb.

—Ben Norris of Carthage, was a business visitor in this city today.

—George Geraghty has returned from New Castle, where he attended the fair.

—Mrs. J. W. Racker of Greensburg came yesterday for a visit with relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henley of Carthage were visitors in this city yesterday.

—Mrs. Lawrence Cummings of Terre Haute is visiting relatives and friends here.

—Mrs. Fred McCloud of Indianapolis is the guest of friends and relatives in this city.

—Miss Lizzie Sommers of Liberty is the guest of Mrs. Oliver O'Brien in North Jackson street.

—Congressman W. O. Barnard of New Castle was mingling with friends in this city yesterday.

—Miss Carol Thatcher of Indianapolis will be the guest of her brother, Louis Thatcher tomorrow.

—Mrs. Frank Hayes of Greensburg went to Milroy Thursday to visit Mrs. William Martin for a few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oglesby will leave Tuesday for Wheeling, W. Va., where they will take permanent residence.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dudding and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Binford of Greenfield attended the chautauqua here yesterday.

—Greenfield Reporter: Therman Tarpley of Rushville and Glen Ritchey of Kokomo are here visiting Mrs. Esther Freeman.

—Alvah Reeves, W. H. Stewart and Horace Beckner of Greenfield were here yesterday afternoon for the Bryan lecture.

—Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wyatt returned home today from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Nowata, Oklahoma.

—Connersville News: Harold Miller of Rushville came here today for a short visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert.

—Miss Jessie Carter returned to her home last night from a three weeks' visit with her brother, T. L. Carter and family in Seymour.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Surber of Indianapolis will come this evening for a week's visit with William Offutt and family in East Sixth street.

—Greensburg News: John Marlow has sold the William Beggs farm of eighty-four acres in Rush county to Carlos Kemeth, who paid $85 per acre.

Yes. Bradley's every time for real Bargains.

Are Your Clothes Faded?

Use Red Cross Blue and make them white again. Large 2 oz. package, 5 cents.

33 1/3 per cent of the fruit canned in the old fashioned way is wasted. No fruit spoils in the Economy jar. Sold by L. L. Allen. 116tf

Run Over by Ox Team.

It is seldom that we hear of ox teams nowadays, but there are many people who feel so lazy and dumpy that if an ox team came along they would not feel able to get out of the way. For such people there is no remedy equal to Sexine Pills, the great nerve and body builders. Price $1 a box; six boxes $5, with full guarantee. Address or call Hargrove & Mullin, Druggists, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.

Ask The Woman

Don't take our word for it, but ask those who have bought at our sale about the big bargains they received. Many still remain, so come and see for yourself.

WE MENTION A FEW ITEMS BELOW

One lot of 50c Dress Goods, light and dark colors, 36 inches wide, at..... 25c

One lot of $1 Suitings, light colors, for skirts, 44 inches wide at .... 49c

25 Ladies Tailored Suits, that sold for $20 to $35, choice... $9.98

$12.50 Silk Rajah Coats, sizes 36 and 38 at..... $6.98

$15.00 Pongee Coat, size 36, at..... $8.49

One lot Fancy Silks Messalines, Pongee and Foulards, 27 to 36 inches wide, worth $1.00 to $1.25, choice, 69c

One lot of Children's 25c Black Lace Hose, all sizes, 17c a pair, 3 for... 50c

One lot Ladies' 59c Silk Gloves, Tan and Brown, all sizes at..... 38c

One lot of All Silk Fancy Umbrellas, worth $5.00, for... $2.98

$16.50 Pongee Coats, sizes 36 and 40 at..... $9.98

Ladies' and Misses' One Piece Dresses in White and Colors,
For Less Than Cost of Material

Kennedy & Casady

Successors to John B. Winship

Agents Pictorial Review Patterns

Phone No. 1143

—E. G. Johnson of Connersville was a visitor in this city today.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jet Parker left today for a stay at Clear Lake.

—Ross Morris has returned to his home in Elwood, after a week's visit with Scott Buell at his home east of the city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse French, Sr., of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Edgar French of New Castle were here yesterday in their automobile for the chautauqua.

—Mrs. J. R. Carmichael and daughter, Miss Bertha, who are making an extended trip in the West, are now the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Will Arnold in Colorado Springs.

—Ed Hendee of Anderson, headed a committee to this city yesterday to endeavor to obtain Bryan to deliver a lecture in that city sometime during the coming winter.

—E. L. Kennedy and family have gone to Liberty to visit relatives and to attend the sessions of the Baptist Association near there. They made the trip in their automobile.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Payne and sons, Wallace and Lawrence and Mrs. Frank Payne have gone to the Muskoka District, of Ontario, Canada to spend the remainder of the summer.

—The Rev. S. S. Offutt, the Misses Maudie Howell and Sylvia and Laura Davis of Howard Park, Jeffersonville will come Monday to be the guests of William Offutt and family in East Sixth street.

—Shelbyville Democrat: Dr. John Green and C. E. Inlow of Manilla were in the city yesterday on their way to Indianapolis. Dr. Green is contemplating moving to his farm in Hendricks county.

—Shelbyville Democrat: The Colosseum Reds will line up against the St. Paul Indians at the Second street diamonds on next Sunday afternoon. The game is expected to be hard fought and exciting.

Use Clark's Purity Flour for your Chautauqua baking.

Yellow Clothes Are Unsightly

Keep them white with Red Cross Ball Blue. All grocers sell large 2oz. package, 5 cents.

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklin's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25c. at F. B. Johnson & Co.

An Economy fruit jar demonstration is now going on at L. L. Allen's. Call and see this wonderful jar and have the demonstrator explain it to you. 116tf

Best by Test, Fair Promise 5c Cigar.

The Store for Particular People

Hargrove & Mullin - Drugs

Quality First

Raymond Dyspepsia Tablets

Let us show you letters and what is said about our Dyspepsia Remedy from our Customers in Rushville, Chicago, Cincinnati and Huntington.

Palace Theatre

FILM

(ESSANAY)

"Desperado"

(Western Drama)

A NEW SONG

By Miss Iva Brown.

The Coolest Theatre in the City

5c - ADMISSION - 5c

Vaudet Theatre

FILM

(IMP)

"In War Time"

(Drama)

A NEW SONG

5c ADMISSION 5c

..Star-Grand.. AIR DOME

FILM

(LUBIN)

"John Graham's Gold"

(Drama)

SONG

Mr. Earl Robertson

"Take Me Back to Sunshine Land"

MISS LUCILLE LINN, Pianist

5c ADMISSION 5c

The Girl and the Bill

By Bannister Merwin

Illustrations by Ray Walton

(Copyright, 1900, Dodd, Mead Company.)

"Won't you speak to me, Agnes?"

The ghostly figure shook its head.

"Are you happy, Agnes? Tell me. Oh, don't go until you have told me."

The figure nodded mutely, and with a final slow gesture, waved the woman back to her seat.

Meantime Orme cast his eyes over the circle. Dimly he saw faces, some stolid, some agitated; and there, at the farther end were the two Japanese, intent as children on these wonders. Their sparkling eyes were directed to the cabinet.

The apparition had disappeared between the curtains. But now there was a fresh gasp of wonder, as the figure of a little child stepped out into the room. It did not go far from the cabinet, and it alternately advanced and retreated, turning this way and that, as though looking for some one.

"It wants its mother!" exclaimed one of the women in the circle. "Is your mother here, little one?"

The child stared at the speaker, then withdrew to the curtains.

"They will begin to talk after a while," explained the woman—"when the control gets stronger. I always feel so tender for these little lost spirits that come back to hunt for their loved ones."

Orme moved swiftly around the circle. He passed so close to the Japanese that he could have touched them. The felt slippers made his steps noiseless; the thick rug absorbed the shock of his weight.

He passed through the hangings of the doorway to the next room. There he had no gaslight; the window shades, however, were not drawn so closely but that a little daylight entered. He removed the robe and stuffed it under the old sofa at one side. His hat, as Madam Alla had said, was there, and he put it on and went to the hall door. The circle had begun to sing another hymn. Orme got into the hall, shut the door silently, and hurried down the stairs, the long-drawn strains of the song following him and dying away as he neared the street entrance. In the lower hall he removed the felt slippers and tossed them into a corner.

He was amazed at the loudness of the street noises, and the glare of the sunlight as he stepped to the sidewalk. He stood there blinking for a moment, until his eyes became accustomed to the light. The foot-procession of the city streamed by him.

Suddenly a man turned in toward the doorway, and with a startled exclamation, stopped short. Orme found himself looking into the gleaming eyes of Alcatrante.

"And afterward you went out again?"

"What makes you think that?"

Alcatrante bit his lip. "Why," he stammered, "the detective reported that you were absent when he arrived."

"And therefore," remarked Orme coolly, "he got access to my apartment and, after rummaging through my things, went sound asleep in my bedroom, where I found him snoring when I returned."

The minister swung his cane viciously at a bit of paper that lay on the sidewalk.

"He was not a clever detective," continued Orme. "And as for Poritolo, don't you think he had better offer his reward to the Japanese?"

"No," replied Alcatrante. "They may have stolen the clue from you, but I have reason to think that the papers were already gone when they went to look for them. Poritolo is really very anxious."

"Doubtless," added Orme.

"Perhaps," added Alcatrante, after a short wait, "he might even go as high as two thousand."

"Indeed? Then there will surely be many answers to his advertisement."

"Oh, he will not advertise," Alcatrante laughed. "Already he knows where the papers are. While waiting for the clue of the bill, he discovered what others had already availed themselves of it."

"That is curious," Orme smiled.

"How did he discover that?"

"In a roundabout way. I won't take time for the story."

They walked along in silence for a little distance. Orme was figuring on an escape, for the minister's clutch on his arm was like that of a drowning man's. Finally he sought the simplest means of getting away. "I have an engagement," he said. "I shall have to leave you, here. Thank you for walking with me thus far." He disengaged his arm.

"My dear Mr. Orme," said Alcatrante, "why should we beat around the bush?"

"Why, indeed?" said Orme.

"Poritolo knows that his papers are in your possession. Speaking for him, I offer you five thousand."

"Why do you drag Poritolo into this?" said Orme. "You know that he has merely been your agent from the start. You think he has bungled, but I tell you, you are the one who bungled, for friends will know where to look for the criminal."

Alcatrante snarled. "Don't be too sure."

"If necessary," continued Orme, "a word to certain persons as to the commission for building warships—five hundred thousand, is it not? by the new arrangement—in gold—"

Alcatrante, in ungovernable rage, raised his light cane and struck. Orme fended the blow with his arm, then wrenched the cane away and threw it into the street. A swarm of passers-by gathered about them so quickly that in a moment they were the center of a circle.

"You dunce," said Orme. "Do you want the police?"

"No," muttered Alcatrante, controlling himself with a great effort. "You are right." He darted into the crowd at one side, and Orme, quick to take the hint, disappeared in the opposite direction, crossing the street and jumping into an empty cab, which had drawn up in anticipation of a fight.

"To the Rookery," he ordered, naming the first office building that came into his head.

"Sure," said the driver, and away they rattled.

A glance back showed Orme that the crowd was dispersing.

At a distance was Alcatrante. He had seen Orme's escape, and was looking about vainly for another cab. But cabs are not numerous on North Parker street, and Orme, so far as he could tell, was not followed.

When his cab drew up at the busy entrance on La Salle street, he found his way to the nearest public telephone. The hour was close to five, and he must discover quickly where he could find the girl. He called up the Pere Marquette. "This is Mr. Orme," he explained to the clerk. "Have there been any calls or messages for me?"

To be Continued.

CHAPTER XIII.

An Old Man of the Sea.

"Oh, Mr. Orme, you are the man I most wished to see." The minister's voice carried a note of unrestrained eagerness. He extended his hand.

Orme accepted the salutation, mustering the appearance of a casual meeting; he must keep Alcatrante out of the building.

"I was sorry that I could not be at your apartment this morning," continued Alcatrante, "and I hope you did not wait too long."

"Oh, no," replied Orme. "I waited for a little while, but concluded that something had called you away. Has Senator Poritolo recovered from his anxiety?"

"Why, no," said Alcatrante. "But the course of events has changed." He linked his arm in Orme's and walked along with him toward the center of the city. "You see," he went on, "my young friend Poritolo overestimated the importance of that marked bill. It did give the clue to the hiding place of certain papers which were of great value to him. What he failed to realize was that the papers could be of little importance to others. And yet, so perturbed is he that he has asked me to offer a considerable reward for the recovery of these papers."

"Indeed?"

"Yes," Alcatrante sent a slanting glance at Orme. "The sum is ridiculously large, but he insists on offering one thousand dollars."

"Quite a sum," said Orme calmly. He was interested in the minister's indications.

"As for the events of last night"—continued Alcatrante, stopping short, with a significant glance.

"Well?" said Orme indifferently.

"I trust that you did not think me absurd for sending that detective to you. That I did so was a result of poor Poritolo's frantic insistence."

"Indeed?"

"My young friend was so afraid that you would be robbed."

"I was robbed," laughed Orme, trying to make light of the situation.

"Why, how was that?" Alcatrante's surprise was well assumed.

"Oh, after I said good-night to you, the two Japanese caught me while I was going through the tunnel to the courtyard."

"My dear Mr. Orme!"

"They are clever, those Japanese."

"And afterward you went out again?"

"What makes you think that?"

Alcatrante bit his lip. "Why," he stammered, "the detective reported that you were absent when he arrived."

"And therefore," remarked Orme coolly, "he got access to my apartment and, after rummaging through my things, went sound asleep in my bedroom, where I found him snoring when I returned."

The minister swung his cane viciously at a bit of paper that lay on the sidewalk.

"He was not a clever detective," continued Orme. "And as for Poritolo, don't you think he had better offer his reward to the Japanese?"

"No," replied Alcatrante. "They may have stolen the clue from you, but I have reason to think that the papers were already gone when they went to look for them. Poritolo is really very anxious."

"Doubtless," added Orme.

"Perhaps," added Alcatrante, after a short wait, "he might even go as high as two thousand."

"Indeed? Then there will surely be many answers to his advertisement."

"Oh, he will not advertise," Alcatrante laughed. "Already he knows where the papers are. While waiting for the clue of the bill, he discovered what others had already availed themselves of it."

"That is curious," Orme smiled.

"How did he discover that?"

"In a roundabout way. I won't take time for the story."

They walked along in silence for a little distance. Orme was figuring on an escape, for the minister's clutch on his arm was like that of a drowning man's. Finally he sought the simplest means of getting away. "I have an engagement," he said. "I shall have to leave you, here. Thank you for walking with me thus far." He disengaged his arm.

"My dear Mr. Orme," said Alcatrante, "why should we beat around the bush?"

"Why, indeed?" said Orme.

"Poritolo knows that his papers are in your possession. Speaking for him, I offer you five thousand."

"Why do you drag Poritolo into this?" said Orme. "You know that he has merely been your agent from the start. You think he has bungled, but I tell you, you are the one who bungled, for friends will know where to look for the criminal."

Alcatrante snarled. "Don't be too sure."

"If necessary," continued Orme, "a word to certain persons as to the commission for building warships—five hundred thousand, is it not? by the new arrangement—in gold—"

Alcatrante, in ungovernable rage, raised his light cane and struck. Orme fended the blow with his arm, then wrenched the cane away and threw it into the street. A swarm of passers-by gathered about them so quickly that in a moment they were the center of a circle.

"You dunce," said Orme. "Do you want the police?"

"No," muttered Alcatrante, controlling himself with a great effort. "You are right." He darted into the crowd at one side, and Orme, quick to take the hint, disappeared in the opposite direction, crossing the street and jumping into an empty cab, which had drawn up in anticipation of a fight.

"To the Rookery," he ordered, naming the first office building that came into his head.

"Sure," said the driver, and away they rattled.

A glance back showed Orme that the crowd was dispersing.

At a distance was Alcatrante. He had seen Orme's escape, and was looking about vainly for another cab. But cabs are not numerous on North Parker street, and Orme, so far as he could tell, was not followed.

When his cab drew up at the busy entrance on La Salle street, he found his way to the nearest public telephone. The hour was close to five, and he must discover quickly where he could find the girl. He called up the Pere Marquette. "This is Mr. Orme," he explained to the clerk. "Have there been any calls or messages for me?"

To be Continued.

CHAPTER XIII.

An Old Man of the Sea.

"Oh, Mr. Orme, you are the man I most wished to see." The minister's voice carried a note of unrestrained eagerness. He extended his hand.

Orme accepted the salutation, mustering the appearance of a casual meeting; he must keep Alcatrante out of the building.

"I was sorry that I could not be at your apartment this morning," continued Alcatrante, "and I hope you did not wait too long."

"Oh, no," replied Orme. "I waited for a little while, but concluded that something had called you away. Has Senator Poritolo recovered from his anxiety?"

"Why, no," said Alcatrante. "But the course of events has changed." He linked his arm in Orme's and walked along with him toward the center of the city. "You see," he went on, "my young friend Poritolo overestimated the importance of that marked bill. It did give the clue to the hiding place of certain papers which were of great value to him. What he failed to realize was that the papers could be of little importance to others. And yet, so perturbed is he that he has asked me to offer a considerable reward for the recovery of these papers."

"Indeed?"

"Yes," Alcatrante sent a slanting glance at Orme. "The sum is ridiculously large, but he insists on offering one thousand dollars."

"Quite a sum," said Orme calmly. He was interested in the minister's indications.

"As for the events of last night"—continued Alcatrante, stopping short, with a significant glance.

"Well?" said Orme indifferently.

"I trust that you did not think me absurd for sending that detective to you. That I did so was a result of poor Poritolo's frantic insistence."

"Indeed?"

"My young friend was so afraid that you would be robbed."

"I was robbed," laughed Orme, trying to make light of the situation.

"Why, how was that?" Alcatrante's surprise was well assumed.

"Oh, after I said good-night to you, the two Japanese caught me while I was going through the tunnel to the courtyard."

"My dear Mr. Orme!"

"They are clever, those Japanese."

"And afterward you went out again?"

"What makes you think that?"

Alcatrante bit his lip. "Why," he stammered, "the detective reported that you were absent when he arrived."

"And therefore," remarked Orme coolly, "he got access to my apartment and, after rummaging through my things, went sound asleep in my bedroom, where I found him snoring when I returned."

The minister swung his cane viciously at a bit of paper that lay on the sidewalk.

"He was not a clever detective," continued Orme. "And as for Poritolo, don't you think he had better offer his reward to the Japanese?"

"No," replied Alcatrante. "They may have stolen the clue from you, but I have reason to think that the papers were already gone when they went to look for them. Poritolo is really very anxious."

"Doubtless," added Orme.

"Perhaps," added Alcatrante, after a short wait, "he might even go as high as two thousand."

"Indeed? Then there will surely be many answers to his advertisement."

"Oh, he will not advertise," Alcatrante laughed. "Already he knows where the papers are. While waiting for the clue of the bill, he discovered what others had already availed themselves of it."

"That is curious," Orme smiled.

"How did he discover that?"

"In a roundabout way. I won't take time for the story."

They walked along in silence for a little distance. Orme was figuring on an escape, for the minister's clutch on his arm was like that of a drowning man's. Finally he sought the simplest means of getting away. "I have an engagement," he said. "I shall have to leave you, here. Thank you for walking with me thus far." He disengaged his arm.

"My dear Mr. Orme," said Alcatrante, "why should we beat around the bush?"

"Why, indeed?" said Orme.

"Poritolo knows that his papers are in your possession. Speaking for him, I offer you five thousand."

"Why do you drag Poritolo into this?" said Orme. "You know that he has merely been your agent from the start. You think he has bungled, but I tell you, you are the one who bungled, for friends will know where to look for the criminal."

Alcatrante snarled. "Don't be too sure."

"If necessary," continued Orme, "a word to certain persons as to the commission for building warships—five hundred thousand, is it not? by the new arrangement—in gold—"

Alcatrante, in ungovernable rage, raised his light cane and struck. Orme fended the blow with his arm, then wrenched the cane away and threw it into the street. A swarm of passers-by gathered about them so quickly that in a moment they were the center of a circle.

"You dunce," said Orme. "Do you want the police?"

"No," muttered Alcatrante, controlling himself with a great effort. "You are right." He darted into the crowd at one side, and Orme, quick to take the hint, disappeared in the opposite direction, crossing the street and jumping into an empty cab, which had drawn up in anticipation of a fight.

"To the Rookery," he ordered, naming the first office building that came into his head.

"Sure," said the driver, and away they rattled.

A glance back showed Orme that the crowd was dispersing.

At a distance was Alcatrante. He had seen Orme's escape, and was looking about vainly for another cab. But cabs are not numerous on North Parker street, and Orme, so far as he could tell, was not followed.

When his cab drew up at the busy entrance on La Salle street, he found his way to the nearest public telephone. The hour was close to five, and he must discover quickly where he could find the girl. He called up the Pere Marquette. "This is Mr. Orme," he explained to the clerk. "Have there been any calls or messages for me?"

To be Continued.

CHAPTER XIII.

An Old Man of the Sea.

"Oh, Mr. Orme, you are the man I most wished to see." The minister's voice carried a note of unrestrained eagerness. He extended his hand.

Orme accepted the salutation, mustering the appearance of a casual meeting; he must keep Alcatrante out of the building.

"I was sorry that I could not be at your apartment this morning," continued Alcatrante, "and I hope you did not wait too long."

"Oh, no," replied Orme. "I waited for a little while, but concluded that something had called you away. Has Senator Poritolo recovered from his anxiety?"

"Why, no," said Alcatrante. "But the course of events has changed." He linked his arm in Orme's and walked along with him toward the center of the city. "You see," he went on, "my young friend Poritolo overestimated the importance of that marked bill. It did give the clue to the hiding place of certain papers which were of great value to him. What he failed to realize was that the papers could be of little importance to others. And yet, so perturbed is he that he has asked me to offer a considerable reward for the recovery of these papers."

"Indeed?"

"Yes," Alcatrante sent a slanting glance at Orme. "The sum is ridiculously large, but he insists on offering one thousand dollars."

"Quite a sum," said Orme calmly. He was interested in the minister's indications.

"As for the events of last night"—continued Alcatrante, stopping short, with a significant glance.

"Well?" said Orme indifferently.

"I trust that you did not think me absurd for sending that detective to you. That I did so was a result of poor Poritolo's frantic insistence."

"Indeed?"

"My young friend was so afraid that you would be robbed."

"I was robbed," laughed Orme, trying to make light of the situation.

"Why, how was that?" Alcatrante's surprise was well assumed.

"Oh, after I said good-night to you, the two Japanese caught me while I was going through the tunnel to the courtyard."

"My dear Mr. Orme!"

"They are clever, those Japanese."

"And afterward you went out again?"

"What makes you think that?"

Alcatrante bit his lip. "Why," he stammered, "the detective reported that you were absent when he arrived."

"And therefore," remarked Orme coolly, "he got access to my apartment and, after rummaging through my things, went sound asleep in my bedroom, where I found him snoring when I returned."

The minister swung his cane viciously at a bit of paper that lay on the sidewalk.

"He was not a clever detective," continued Orme. "And as for Poritolo, don't you think he had better offer his reward to the Japanese?"

"No," replied Alcatrante. "They may have stolen the clue from you, but I have reason to think that the papers were already gone when they went to look for them. Poritolo is really very anxious."

"Doubtless," added Orme.

"Perhaps," added Alcatrante, after a short wait, "he might even go as high as two thousand."

"Indeed? Then there will surely be many answers to his advertisement."

"Oh, he will not advertise," Alcatrante laughed. "Already he knows where the papers are. While waiting for the clue of the bill, he discovered what others had already availed themselves of it."

"That is curious," Orme smiled.

"How did he discover that?"

"In a roundabout way. I won't take time for the story."

They walked along in silence for a little distance. Orme was figuring on an escape, for the minister's clutch on his arm was like that of a drowning man's. Finally he sought the simplest means of getting away. "I have an engagement," he said. "I shall have to leave you, here. Thank you for walking with me thus far." He disengaged his arm.

"My dear Mr. Orme," said Alcatrante, "why should we beat around the bush?"

"Why, indeed?" said Orme.

"Poritolo knows that his papers are in your possession. Speaking for him, I offer you five thousand."

"Why do you drag Poritolo into this?" said Orme. "You know that he has merely been your agent from the start. You think he has bungled, but I tell you, you are the one who bungled, for friends will know where to look for the criminal."

Alcatrante snarled. "Don't be too sure."

"If necessary," continued Orme, "a word to certain persons as to the commission for building warships—five hundred thousand, is it not? by the new arrangement—in gold—"

Alcatrante, in ungovernable rage, raised his light cane and struck. Orme fended the blow with his arm, then wrenched the cane away and threw it into the street. A swarm of passers-by gathered about them so quickly that in a moment they were the center of a circle.

"You dunce," said Orme. "Do you want the police?"

"No," muttered Alcatrante, controlling himself with a great effort. "You are right." He darted into the crowd at one side, and Orme, quick to take the hint, disappeared in the opposite direction, crossing the street and jumping into an empty cab, which had drawn up in anticipation of a fight.

Shall we Rejoice

Gladness comes with a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed and assisted by the pleasant laxative remedy Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

DR. F. G. HACKLEMAN
EYE, EAR
NOSE and THROAT
GLASSES FURNISHED

DR. J. B. KINSINGER,
Osteopathic Physician
announces the removal of his office from his residence, Fifth and Harrison Streets to the Kramer building one-half square south of I. & C. traction station. Phones, residence 1281, office 1587.

Office 1408—Phone—Res. 1162
DR. L. C. KIGIN
Veterinarian
Office Johnson's Drug Store
Rushville, Indiana

FRED A. CALDWELL
Funeral Director and Embalmer

Prompt and Efficient Service
Phones 1051 and 1231
RUSHVILLE, IND.

WM. F. WOLIUNG & SON,
Contractors and Builders,

ESTIMATES GIVEN.
Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings and repair work, also cellars, cisterns, stone, concrete, cement, block foundations, etc. All work guaranteed.
Call Phone 1518.

I. & C. TRACTION COMPANY
In Effect April 1, 1910

PASSENGER SERVICE

Trains Leave Rushville.
West Bound.	East Bound.
4:20 a. m.	5:20 a. m.
5:20 a. m.	6:20 a. m.
6:07 a. m.	7:20 a. m.
7:09 a. m.	8:42 a. m.
8:07 a. m.	9:06 a. m.
9:04 a. m.	10:42 a. m.
10:07 a. m.	11:20 a. m.
11:09 a. m.	12:42 p. m.
12:07 p. m.	1:20 p. m.
1:09 p. m.	2:42 p. m.
2:07 p. m.	3:20 p. m.
3:09 p. m.	4:42 p. m.
4:07 p. m.	5:22 p. m.
5:04 p. m.	6:42 p. m.
6:07 p. m.	7:06 p. m.
7:09 p. m.	7:54 p. m.
8:09 p. m.	9:20 p. m.
9:11:09 p. m.	10:27 p. m.
	12:51 a. m.

* Limited.
† Connorsville Dispatch makes no stops between Rushville and Indianapolis, and Rushville and Connorsville.
§ Makes local stops between Rushville and Indianapolis.

PHONES—Ticket Office 1407.
Freight Office 1690.

EXPRESS SERVICE
FOR DELIVERY AT STATION
15 Trains Each Way

FREIGHT SERVICE
West Bound. 7:20 a. m. 5:22 p. m.
East Bound. 4:20 a. m. 2:20 p. m.

BEVERLY HAS A PROGRAM FIXED

Aldrich, Cannon and Ballinger to Be Cast Overboard

THAT IS NOW THE LATEST WORD

In Trimming Ship For the November Voyage, the Republicans Have Decided to Lighten the Vessel of What the Leaders Consider Incumbrances, and It Is Declared That Said Incumbrances Acquiesce in Their Fate.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 13.—If the plans of the new leaders of the Republican party bear fruit, and the leaders think they will, Speaker Joseph G. Cannon will not again wield the gavel in the house of representatives. He is marked for political destruction. If other plans of those same leaders do not fail, Secretary of the Interior Ballinger will retire from President Taft's cabinet shortly after the congressional investigating committee reports next month.

Ballinger was marked for destruction and the end, it is said here, is already in sight. It has become plain that Nelson W. Aldrich will not again be a candidate for the senate from Rhode Island. He, too, was set down by the new leaders of the party as one who must go. The word went forth some time ago that Aldrich must not run again. It has been made known definitely that he will not run. In the retirement of Mr. Ballinger, the elimination of Speaker Cannon and the withdrawal of Senator Aldrich from public life, the leaders feel that they have trimmed the Republican ship for its voyage toward the fall elections. They think that from the shoulders of President Taft three burdens which he has carried long have been removed. Some go so far as to say that in no other way can they face the coming fight with any chance of success. They do not say that Mr. Taft has been responsible for all these acts, but they point with pride to the good effect they will have on the country. It is understood in Beverly at least, that in Ballinger, Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich, the insurgents have found more material for their battles with the regulars than in anything the Taft administration has done or failed to do. It is said in some places that the discouraging results in Kansas and Iowa are to be attributed to the fact that the insurgents harped much upon the connection between the administration and these three men.

With their active participation in affairs at an end the leaders say the insurgents will not have a leg to stand upon, and the Democrats will lose ground.

Neither Secretary Ballinger, Senator Aldrich nor Speaker Cannon found his elimination tasteful, it is said here. The senator announced his retirement months ago, but for a time there was a feeling that he might run again, just the same, if pressed to do so. This is what the west thought, according to information that came to Beverly. And on that fact the west pondered much, not to the advantage of the Republicans. Secretary Ballinger has always declared that he would not retire. But both he and Aldrich were persuaded, so the story goes, to sacrifice themselves for the good of the party.

Cannon by his speeches in Kansas, some of those in touch with affairs declared, did much to help the insurgents gain a victory. That fact, perhaps was the last straw that determined those who are attempting the rejuvenation of the party to tell Mr. Cannon, if he does not know it already, that he must not run for speaker again. It is said on behalf of Cannon that he has already told close friends that he was not to be considered in the contest for the speakership if the next house goes Republican. If the leaders prevail, the country will know long before the elections in November that the administration has done with Ballinger, Aldrich and Cannon.

KILLED AT CROSSING

Three Persons Lose Lives When Auto Was Struck by Train.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 13.—Mrs. John Eckert, Miss Agnes Wagner and the chauffeur, Charles C. Lambert, were killed; Mrs. John Kelp was probably fatally injured, and Miss Agnes Eckert and Carl Booher seriously injured north of here last night when their auto was struck by a train at a grade crossing.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of United States weather bureaus taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
New York.....	75	Clear
Albany.....	74	Clear
Atlantic City..	72	Cloudy
Boston.....	76	Clear
Buffalo.....	72	Clear
Chicago.....	80	Clear
Indianapolis...	80	Clear
New Orleans...	80	Cloudy
St. Louis.....	80	Clear
Washington...	76	Cloudy
Philadelphia...	76	Cloudy

Partly cloudy; Sunday, showers and cooler.

SENATOR HEYBURN

Wouldn't Listen to "Dixie" at a Republican Meeting.

DIXIE WAS TOO MUCH FOR HEYBURN'S EARS

Idaho Senator Silences Orchestra That Tried It.

Wallace, Idaho, Aug. 13.—Senator W. B. Heyburn of Idaho dislikes "Dixie." He created a sensation at a reception given to Congressman T. R. Hamer at this place, by stopping the orchestra while the musicians were playing the popular strain. Colonel Hamer had just finished his address and the orchestra had started a medley of well-known airs.

About the sixth number in the medley was "Dixie." The senator leaped to his feet, strode across to the musicians, and cried out: "This is a Republican meeting. We want no such tunes here." The amazed musicians stopped immediately. The senator strode back to his seat. After a moment of silence Mayor Hansen arose and closed the meeting.

MURDER SUSPECTED

Body of Huntington (W. Va.) Merchant's Wife Found in the River.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 13.—This city is greatly excited as the result of disclosures since the finding of the body of Mrs. Henry Hall, wife of a local merchant, in the Ohio river at Catlettsburg, Ky., and the arrest of Elbert A. Arliss, a former attendant at the West Virginia asylum, which was near the Hall store. The body of Mrs. Hall had been brought here. The police say Arliss has made damaging admissions. They have recovered $300 from a hiding place in Arliss's home. They say he directed them where to find the money. Mrs. Hall had between $450 and $500 when she left here ostensibly for Cincinnati to pay some bills.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The Indiana board of state charities will hold its nineteenth annual meeting in Marion, Sept. 14-15.

J. Armstrong Drexel, an American aviator, attained a world's altitude record by rising 6,750 feet at Lanark, Scotland.

The Ohio rifle team at Camp Perry won back the $3,000 Herrick trophy it won in 1907, lost to the Marines in 1908, and which Massachusetts took last year.

Manufacturers' materials imported since the enactment of the Payne tariff law have exceeded in quantity those of any corresponding period in the history of the country.

The Carriage Manufacturers' association of the United States has resolved to advance the price of vehicles for the season of 1911, because of the greater cost of labor and material.

Brazil has asked the German government to place at her disposal a German general and a considerable number of staff officers for the purpose of reorganizing the Brazilian army.

Jacob H. Schiff, who is back from an extended trip to Alaska, declares that the best way to develop the coal and timber resources of the country will be under a government commission.

At the North Randall grand circuit meeting at Cleveland, Uhlman, the black son of Bingen, trotted the mile track in 1:58 3/4, making a new record for harness horses. The trotter is owned by C. K. G. Billings of New York.

Three sons of John A. Straight, a merchant of Providence, R. I., aged respectively fourteen, eleven and five years, were instantly killed while playing on a railway track. A train dashed around a sharp curve upon them.

THOUSANDS SAW AERONAUT FALL

Shocking Spectacle At Asbury Park Aviation Meet.

YOUTH TUMBLED 6,000 FEET

After Ascending More Than a Mile, Benjamin Prince, Youthful Balloonist, Cut Loose, Only to Be Jarred From His Parachute and Dashed to Death Within 100 Yards of Grandstand.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 13.—Benjamin Prince, a parachute jumper, who last evening attempted to float from one of Johnnie Mack's hot-air balloons down to the aviation field of the Asbury Park meet, 6,000 feet below him, was jolted from the crossbar below his parachute just as he cut loose from the balloon. His body, at first like a black shoe button against the sunset, came twisting and turning toward a rose garden back of George Conover's farmhouse, 100 yards to the west of the grandstand, and struck head first on the main branch of an apple tree—then tumbled lifeless into the garden.

The young man had risked the jump for a $5 bill. Prince was twenty-one years old and lived with his widowed mother at Newark, N. J. He came here at the beginning of the present aviation meet with Johnnie Mack and Mack's wife, Dot, who jumped successfully yesterday afternoon, and another parachute performer named James Flemming, a youth slightly younger than Prince, whose home also is in Newark, where the Macks come from.

Flemming ascended hanging to the same balloon with Prince, and jumped successfully from a height of about 4,000 feet a few moments before Prince cut loose at the higher altitude to be dashed to death. Prince did not bother to secure himself to his trapeze, but was satisfied to go aloft with only a hand grasp on the ropes supporting his trapeze to keep him secure.

The tragedy of the air was witnessed by an assemblage that included Governor Fort, politicians and legislators from New Jersey, and a crowd of more than 11,000 that had gathered to applaud the efforts of the air men.

GOOD PROGRESS

Is Reported in the Condition of New York's Stricken Mayor.

New York, Aug. 13.—Mayor Gaynor's symptoms continue to be favorable and the doctors declare that the victim of a discharged dock hand's shot is making steady progress toward recovery. The physicians who signed the official statement concerning the mayor's condition contented themselves with registering their patient's improvement only in the most general terms. The unofficial reports emanating from the bedside of the wounded mayor are specific, even though less optimistic.

Passersby Witness Suicide.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 13.—Edward Wodell, aged forty-four, a painter, killed himself by shooting. He sat on the front steps at his home when he did it, and several passersby witnessed the suicide. Wodell two or three years ago shot and seriously wounded his wife and spent a year in jail. He had been living with her since his release until two weeks ago, when she sued him for divorce.

THE NATIONAL GAME

Here Are the Current Scores in the Three Big Leagues.

The National League.
At Boston— R.H.E.
Chicago.... 0 0 0 1 0 0 3 1 0—5 9 1
Boston.... 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 0—3 14 1
Reulbach and Kling; Frock and Graham.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.
St. Louis.... 2 0 0 2 0 5 1 1—11 11 1
Philadelphia... 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0—2 8 4
Corridon and Bresnahan; Moren, Brennan and Doolin.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.
Pittsburg... 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 1—3 12 0
Brooklyn... 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0—2 8 0
Leffeld, Leever and Gibson; Bell and Bergen.

At New York— R.H.E.
Cincinnati... 2 0 0 0 0 0 2 1—5 17 1
New York... 0 3 0 0 1 0 0 0—4 5 3
Burns, Beebe and McLean; Clarke, Crandall, Wiltse and Meyers.

The American League.
At Cleveland— R.H.E.
Washington. 4 1 1 0 0 1 0 2—9 16 1
Cleveland... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 6 2
Reisling and Ainsmith; Harkness, Mitchell and Easterly.

At Detroit— R.H.E.
Philadelphia 1 0 0 1 0 2 0 3 0—7 9 4
Detroit.... 0 3 0 0 1 0 0 0—4 6 6
Plank and Thomas; Summers and Stange.

At St. Louis— R.H.E.
New York... 0 1 0 0 0 0 3 0—4 10 3
St. Louis... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—4 5 7 3
Quinn and Mitchell; Ray and Kilfer.

At Chicago— R.H.E.
Boston... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 2 0—3 9 2
Chicago... 1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 1—4 9 1
Hall and Carrigan; Scott and Sullivan.

The American Association.
At St. Paul, 6; Minneapolis, 16.
At Milwaukee, 8; Louisville, 9.

Want Ad Department

Advertisements under this head are charged for at the rate of one-third cent per word for each insertion. The same ad will be placed in the Indianapolis Star and Daily Republican at the combined rate of one cent per word. Found articles of small value will be advertised free of charge.

LOST—Signet ring with initial "A" at chautauqua grounds at east hitching rack. Reward. Return to John Plough or Luther Downey. 131t3

FOR RENT—8 room house, 828 North Main. Bath, and soft water in kitchen. All modern improvements. Inquire north side of the house. 131t6

WANTED—B.H. North of Markland, Ind., would like to have the address of the man he gave his address to Sunday, July 24, 1910, coming out on the cars from Madison, Ind., that lives in Rush county, Ind. 127t4

FOR SALE—Incubators and brooders, one pneumatic tire (2 in 1) buggy, one good family mare. Ed. Oglesby. Phone 4104, 2S1L. 125t6

WANTED—a girl for general housework. Phone 1227 or call at 221 West Fifth St. Mrs. Maude Wolcott. 125tf

FOR SALE—One double tonneau Buick 4 passenger Model 10. Good condition; only been used a short time. Reeve Motor Co. 124tf

FOR RENT—Do you wish to change your location for a better one. If so call at 331 North Main street or Phone 1058. 124t5

LOST—two leather halters between Rushville and Lon Ellison's southwest of city. Return to Cowing Bros. 127t3

MOTORCYCLE FOR SALE—4 H. P. Racycle, almost new, in fine condition. Will sell cheap if taken at once. Jim Foley at Lakin's Plumbing shop. 124t12

WANTED—Boarders by the day, week or meal without rooms. 232 North Perkins St. Phone 3152. 100tf

FOR RENT—5 room house in North Jackson street. Call on Mrs. J. C. Sexton. 99tf

FOR SALE—Good show cases cheap if sold at once. See G. P. Hunt, Hardware store. 99tf

GIRLS WANTED—Rushville Steam Laundry. 94tf

OLD PAPERS—Nice clean newspapers—5 cents a large bundle at The Daily Republican office. tf

TAKEN UP—Shoat, at 518 West Second. Owner can have same by paying for this ad and describing property. 130t3

LOST—a baby sandal some place on the down town streets this morning. Please return to J. W. Hogsett's store. 130t6

WANTED—Boarders at 116 First street, one-half square from court house. Furnished rooms at $1.50 per week. 130t6

FOR RENT—Two cottages. Each four rooms and summer kitchens, all in good condition. See George W. Osborne, or phone 3371. 129t6

LOST—Either in Rushville or Indianapolis an American Woman's League pin, solid Roman gold. Finder leave with Rob. Conover and receive reward. Mrs. Mary E. Conover. 128t2

LOST—Pair of Gold Glasses, double ground lenses, in metal case. Finder please return to Morris Winship and receive reward. 129t6

LOST—While delivering mail on my route, a pair of gold-rimmed nose glasses in leather case. Finder please return to J. P. Stech, 829 North Jackson St. 129t6

FOR SALE—A new Clark 30 Model A 5 passenger auto. Rutenbur motor, 34 inch wheel, 114 inch wheel base, Fisk tires, at a greatly reduced price. Call at our garage for demonstration. Worth & Bowen. 112t12

FOR SALE—Good Jersey cow; will be fresh soon. Call at this office. 125t6

FOR RENT—8-room house in North Sexton street between Fifth and Seventh. Call at 515 North Jackson street. 123t6

FOUND—Child's buggy blanket. Mrs. S. E. Pugh, North Min St. 122t6

WANTED—Home Loan Company to make loans from $10 to $200 on easy payment plan. Fire insurance, real estate. Rear rooms over Wolcott's drug store, Rushville, Ind. Phone 1634. Guy Abercrombie, Manager. 9tf

FOR SALE—1 Jackson touring car, Model C, 5 passenger. In first class condition. Inquire at Worth & Bowen. 85tf

GAS ENGINE—A good engine using natural gas. Inquire at the Republican office. tf

DO YOU USUALLY HAVE THE MONEY AT THE OPPORTUNE TIME?

NOTICE, within the circle of your personal acquaintance and observation, the suggestion-fraught fact that the people who are in the habit of reading ads. usually have money to buy advertised things!

If it is not already true of you, personally, that when you see something you need, advertised at a bargain, you can usually take prompt advantage of the offer, it will become true of you very shortly after you have become a regular reader and answerer of ads. Isn't it worth while?

Another Rushville May Spring Up in the Southland

Transplanting of a City With Same Streets and Same Name May Some Day be in Progress.

By Claude Simpson

Roswell, New Mexico, August 13.

It is not a socialistic community that Rush county people are planning to build down in the soon-to-be-State of New Mexico, but it is a city surrounded by beautiful farms and all owned by Rush county people. The place is now known as Orchard Park and is twelve miles south of Roswell on the Santa Fe railway.

The idea is novel and it is probable that it stands out by itself in the history of country developing. True, towns have been built—scores and scores of them—but seldom have they been built by men from the same community.

The hopes and dreams of these men who are interested in Orchard Park is to have a whole community of Rush county "outcasts" there. Not outcasts either in the true sense of the word for the majority of those who are interested come with their own accord—and as a rule the people who live in the Pecos Valley of New Mexico for a year prefer to stay.

Orchard Park now is a sign board bearing the name of the place. That's where the trains stop. The business district consists of two stores and as many houses. In one corner of one of the stores is the postoffice. In the rear is the hotel. But by August 1911, Orchard Park will present an altogether different appearance, according to those Rush county people who are interested in its growth.

Briefly the plan is this. Buy a tract of 514 acres which lies on the east side of the railroad. The stretch is one of the most beautiful in the Pecos Valley and after it is under cultivation and the town site is filled with houses should be the "garden spot" of the Valley.

One hundred and fourteen acres of this tract is to be set aside for town lots and the four hundred will be parcelled out to the ten men buying shares in forty acre tracts. The plan is to put down a well that will supply the entire tract. Of course all the farming here is done by irrigation, and it is the intention to get a well that will supply all of the farms. This tract is in the vicinity of some of the best wells that have been found in the artesian belt. Well drillers say there is no doubt that the Rush county men can get a flowing well that will supply enough water for every man.

The whole deal has not been completed yet, but it is expected that it will be by the end of next week (that is the week beginning August 14). Several Rushville men are expected down here next week, leaving Rushville Tuesday, and the Rush county contingent which is already here is planning a royal reception for them.

As soon as the proposition is closed, work will be started on the well and it is the intention to get the water in time to start the alfalfa crop this fall. Some of those who have already bought shares have made arrangements for their plowing and will not lose a minute in getting it under cultivation. Some of the men will probably build homes on their farms while others may prefer to build in the town. Already those who have purchased are arousing some friendly rivalry as to who will have the best success in "developing" new land.

In all probability "Orchard Park" will pass away and in its place will appear "Rushville." There is no reason why the State of New Mexico should not have a Rushville even if the territory has been deficient in that respect.

Already some of the "outlying" country is owned by Rush county men. J. H. Ball, who came to the Valley last February has a farm of 180 acres just south of the place and Andy Guffin has purchased 160 acres just west.

And so the idea of transplanting a community does not seem so improbable as it sounds. Think of dropping into far away New Mexico some fine morning—and they are not hard to find here—and discover that you were in Rushville. A co-incidence in names? No, for there are Rushville people. Perhaps the street names may sound familiar to you. And step out to the end of the city and you will see beautiful farms owned by former Rush county men. And that is just exactly what those who are interested in the proposition are planning for.

Rush County People in New Mexico May Build a New Town In Beautiful Pecos Valley.

WILL SELL SOULS FOR SMALL PRICE

Continued from page one.

to say anything against a standpatter I quote an insurgent, but when I want to say anything against an insurgent I am ashamed to quote a standpatter.

"It has always been said that there should be two parties in these United States, one to watch the other, but I always thought that there were too many Republicans to watch the Democrats. I have great confidence in my party, more at some times than at others. You can prove by all Republicans that the government is not right when the Democrats are in power, but no proof is needed when the Republicans are in power.

"That leads me to the question of party corruption, especially in campaign contributions. Now a law has been placed on the books which provides for the publishing of the contributions after the election. One party fought for their publication before the election. The reform wave is growing and will continue to grow."

Mr. Bryan made an eloquent appeal for legislation against child labor. He said that it was the duty of every congressman and senator to fight for laws in that direction, as child labor is a blot on the name of the country. He said that laws on that subject had already been made, but that they were not strong enough.

"I am glad to come to you as a chautauqua lecturer, when the country is not divided by strife," continued Mr. Bryan. "I have been here before when the nation was in the throes of a political campaign and then I talked politics. I have been accused of talking politics, and if it is not that, they say I am preaching a sermon. But there is so little difference between a good sermon and a Democratic speech that there is danger of confusion. But I have a non-partisan subject this afternoon. To get away from the accusations once over in New York, I took my theme from the Bible and talked on the commandment, 'Thou Shalt Not Steal.' They took it to themselves and said that it hurt their feelings. I can't discuss the fundamental questions of life in politics, while here I can. A chautauqua audience can appreciate that because they pay to come and they expect something in return. They represent the best class of people in the country today.

"The soul topic is a most important one because Christ used it and He did not deal with trivial matters. So many men are willing to sell their souls as a commodity and when the soul becomes merchandise, then we are lost. The love of money is the root of all evil and may cause the weighing of the soul. We must study the laws of accumulation and get down to a code of ethics and morals.

"How much can a man rightfully collect from society? And I would answer not more than he can honestly earn. He can honestly earn all that he serves to society. I believe that the scale of wages for a man's earnings in a life time may reach $15,000,000, for which he can render in service to society. In fact I am not willing to fix a maximum in dollars. Abe Lincoln rendered service to the country that can not be measured, and Thomas Jefferson earned at least $50,000,000, yet he died a poor man. You notice that I mention one man from each great political party, but in order to be non-partisan, I do not want to hunt out a Republican to match every Democrat, whom I desire to mention.

"Now I come to the question, how much money should a man collect from society, even though he earns it? I would answer not more than he can wisely spend. Some men are so busy earning that they have no time to collect and other men are so busy collecting that they have no time to earn. There are three necessities of life, food, clothing and shelter and a man can have all of these to a greater or less degree. When he has reached a certain maximum, then he has finished. And then you can give money away. There is a pleasure in that, but what we need is more moderately rich men and not all of the money in the land vested in a few.

"There are some things in which the sale of the soul affects others, as for instance in the law. When I went to Nebraska, the State was all Republican and the place where I lived was the same way down to the ward, but the change has not been as great as it should be, considering the intelligence of the residents. I ventured to say once over in Baltimore that a joke which I played on a friend in college, led me to congress, when some man down in the audience cried out that some men got to congress by playing a joke on the whole district. I defend the law because it is one of the greatest professions in the United States, but the great question is the ability to discern the truth. Lawyers all over the land are selling their souls."

Mr. Bryan, although the owner of a paper himself and has taken on an active journalistic career, took occasion to say that editors were also selling their souls. He declared that big newspapers were owned to controlled, many of them, by monopolies and corporations and the public in many instances was unable to learn who the stockholders really were. The lecturer stated that editorials were sold and that even front page news stories brought the price. He believes that the soul question will enter the editorial sanctum some day. He applied the soul question to the adulteration of food, child labor and monopoly. He said that it was wrong for a corporation to freeze out competition, fix the price of a commodity and hold within their grasp ninety million dollars.

"I do not believe that the ministry exercises the influence that it should on great ethical and moral questions," declared Mr. Bryan. "There is a great corruption in politics and the ministry has not been active enough in purifying them. He should whip out of his church the bribed as well as the briber. Gambling is one of the worst vices which ever had a hold on man. I commend the ministers for the attempt to drive it out of the back alleys. But it is not lurking in the alleyways so much as it is on the race track and in Wall street. There is the worst and greatest gambling house in the world which feeds on the whole country at large. It is kept up by the streams of gold from the common people. It makes embezzlers and brings on suicides and puts men behind prison bars. Figures show that just a few men, that is not counting all of the smaller bank thieves, have stolen in five years twenty-eight millions of dollars.

"There is a justice in the soul question," said Mr. Bryan in closing. "It has come to be a weighing of the soul in life for money. When the soul is sold the man is lost and there is little hope for him and yet how many men are selling their souls today?"

HORSE NOTES

Western Horeman: Down at the Posey Stock Farm, Rushville, Ind., William Dagler and his son Fred are very busy with a lot of colts. Seven of these are by their splendid stallion Blackline. Fred has worked two two-year-olds in 2:35, with the last half in 1:12 and the last quarter in 35 seconds. A three-year-old has been a mile in 2:24, with the last half in 1:10, the last quarter in 34½ seconds. There are four promising yearlings that can pace eighths in from 24 to 28 seconds. A full sister to Blackline has been a mile in 2:15½, the half in 1:06, the quarter in 31¾ seconds. She is a pacer. One of Blackline's first colts took a record of 2:29¼ at the Middletown, Ind., three-year-old trot. Her name is Ruth Randall, and she was driven by John Dagler. Blackline himself has done a splendid stud season and a lot of splendid mare have been bred to him.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

MAY CHEAT GALLOWS.

(Indianapolis News.) Benjamin Noble, the confessed slayer of Albert Sprague, who was brought to Marion county jail from near Greensburg for safe keeping, following the murder, July 17, is under the care of a physician. Noble, according to the statements of deputies at the jail, broods continually and is run down and nervous. He rarely talks to jailers or prisoners. The confinement has affected his health, for Noble was a farm employee and accustomed to outdoor life.

It has been estimated that we of the United States consume 700,000,000,000 matches annually and that ours is a larger match bill than that of any other nation.

That Good Excursion.

Pleases old and young. It is the people's outing. Michigan City and return, $1.75. Steamboat to Chicago and return only 55 cents more. Saturday night, August 20. 132t

Best by Test, Fair Promise 5c Cigar.

We want you to take advantage of our prices at Bradway's.

Don't Spoil Your Clothes.

Use Red Cross Ball Blue and keep them white as snow. All grocers, 5 cents a package.

No rubber rings used with the Economy jar, for they remain air tight and will keep fruit perfectly for any number of years. Sold by L. L. Allen. 116tf

ARREST SUSPECTS DOWN IN ST. PAUL

Two Greensburg Men Held in Custody For Robbery of Money Drawer in Ice Plant.

CASH FOUND ON ONE OF THEM

About six-thirty or seven o'clock Thursday evening thieves entered the office of the Robbins Ice Plant and stole twelve dollars from the cash register, says the Greensburg Democrat. The officers were quickly notified and suspicious pointed to Jack Wise, who has lately been employed there, but was discharged a few days ago. He was seen about the plant late Thursday evening and after a careful search it was learned that he had gone to St. Paul in company with Dan Camden.

Officer Logan who was at St. Paul at the time was notified and he found Wise but was unable to locate Camden. Logan placed Wise under arrest and brought him back to this city where he was placed in jail. Taylor Meek who had also been instructed to watch for Wise and Camden found Camden at his home, and when searched, the money was found in his possession and it is supposed that Wise gave Camden the money to keep so as to avoid suspicion. They will be given a hearing before Mayor Mendenhall.

SOCIETY NEWS

Miss Clara Gertrude Goodwin and Ernest Duke were married Thursday afternoon at the U. P. parsonage by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson.

* * *

Miss Lecta Earnest and Virgil J. McBride were married Thursday afternoon at the Christian church parsonage by Rev. R. W. Abberley.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morelock of near Carthage entertained at dinner yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schaeffer and daughters, Grace and Ruth, and William Schaeffer of Auburn, Pa.

Visit Bradway's Big Closing Out Sale as others are doing.

The Economy way is the easy way. Call at our store and have this proved to your entire satisfaction. L. L. Allen, Grocer. 116tf

Red Cross Ball Blue

Should be in every home. Ask your grocer for it. Large 2oz. package, 5 cents.

From Sickness to "Excellent Health."

So says Mrs. Chas. Lyon, Peoria, Ill.: "I found in your Foley Kidney Pills a prompt and speedy cure for backache and kidney trouble which bothered me for many months. I am now enjoying excellent health which I owe to Foley Kidney Pills." F. B. Johnson & Co.

COL. BAIN AND ASSEMBLY GOES

Continued from page one.

and Mrs. M. R. McDaniel will sing a duet tomorrow and music lovers as well as other local people are well acquainted with the quality of their work.

Carl Morris, the talented young baritone of New York City, who has won fame and fortune in his chosen profession in the last few years and who is so well known here that everyone calls him "Carl" came to his own last night when he pleased to the highest degree of pleasing "the folks back home." He received by far the greatest ovation which has ever been given any entertainer on the program this year. With each series of song which he sang, he was forced to respond to an encore, so enthusiastic and possibly sweet to his ears, was the symbol of the recognition of his own greatness, which echoed back in the form of sweeter music than he had ever heard, as he walked off the stage. Local musicians are unanimous in the opinion that the former Rush county boy is a genius with a truly marvelous voice. They believe that there are yet worlds which he will conquer. The ovation which was given him was truly heartfelt and came from the real inner appreciation of everyone within the range of his voice. He will sing again Sunday afternoon as a part of the prelude.

Miss Helen Vickery, the whistler, will be on the program tonight for a few numbers and will also be on both entertainments tomorrow. She appeared for one number yesterday afternoon.

Miss Helen Francisco, reader, gave several numbers last night and received applause. She also appeared yesterday afternoon for one number.

A. H. Burgderfer, versatile character delineator, will give the entertainment tonight. He is said to be one of the youngest artists on the entertainment stage today and is reputed to be a youngster with a very bright future. His humor, which is said to be of the original sort, is his winning card and he plays it well, so it is said.

The last numbers of the lecture courses which have been continuing every afternoon all week, were finished this afternoon. The work of Prof. Lindley, professor of philosophy in Indiana University, who has been delivering talks every afternoon on phases of popular psychology, has met with popular approval. He popularized philosophy to such an extent that audiences have highly enjoyed his talks. Prof. Henrietta Willard Calvin of Purdue University also finished up her week's work this afternoon. Her lectures and demonstrations on domestic science have been especially popular with the women patrons who have been instructed by her lectures.

Smoke FAIR PROMISE 5c Cigars.

Greatest Furniture Sale ever in Rushville now in full blast at Bradways.

They Have A Definite Purpose.

Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the result in her case. After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so-called cures. I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." F. B. Johnson & Co.

Saving Money on Everything You Buy

is a fine recreation, and you not only can, but will do that very thing at the

Removal Sale

The prices have been cut still further on many articles. Read these Removal Prices that most move all Wash Suits remaining in stock. At these figures you can get them for less than the price of the skirt alone. These suits are in white, tan, light and dark blue.

$6.00 Wash Suits, Removal Price.....	$3.48
$5.00 and $4.50 Wash Suits, Removal Price.....	$2.48
$4.00 Wash Suits, Removal Price.....	$1.98
White and Fancy One-Piece Dresses at still Lower Prices
$4.50 Linen Auto Coats.....	$2.98
$22.50 Ladies' Semi-Fitted Pongee Coat.....	$12.50
$20.00 Lady's Black Taffeta Silk Suit, size 38.....	$7.50

Black Silk Coats at Big Bargains

The Mauzy Co.